Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn Mahbub from Jamil ibn Salih from Sadir who has said the following:

"Once a man asked abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, ' . . . They said, "Lord, make the distances of our journeys longer." They did injustice to themselves. . . .' (34:19) The Imam said, 'They were a people who lived in towns that were attached to each other, and they could see each other. There were canals with flowing water and large properties. They did not appreciate the favors of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, and changed the manners in their souls, the comfort that Allah had granted them, thus, Allah changed the blessings they enjoyed. Allah does not change the conditions of any people until they themselves change their manners in their souls. Allah sent upon them a huge flood that drowned their towns, destroyed their homes and properties. Allah changed their gardens into two gardens that had only bitter fruits, tamarisk and a few lotus trees and then Allah said, "This was how We recompensed them for their ungratefulness and thus do We recompense the ungrateful ones.'" I (the narrator) then asked, 'Are these the biggest sins?' The Imam said, 'Yes, they are.' I then asked, 'Is consuming one dirham from the property of an orphan unjustly a bigger sin or disregarding the prayer?' The Imam said, 'Disregard of the prayer is a bigger sin.'

"I then said, 'You did not mention disregard of prayer among the major sins.' The Imam said, 'What was the first item that I mentioned to you?' I said, 'It was disbelief in Allah.' The Imam said, 'One who disregards prayer is an unbeliever (that is, he is considered as such for ignoring prayer without reason?)'"

A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Khalid from Muhammad ibn Habib from 'Abd Allah ibn 'Abd al-Rahman al-Asamm from 'Abd Allah ibn Muskan from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, 'There is no believer without forty shields on him until he commits forty major sins. When he commits forty major sins, the shields are removed. Allah then sends revelations to them (angels), "Cover My servant with your wings," and the angels cover him with their wings. The Imam then said, 'He then leaves no evil deeds without committing, praising himself among people for his evil deeds. The angels will say, 'Lord, Your servant has left no evil deed uncommitted and we feel embarrassed for what he does. Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, will reveal this to them, 'Move your wings away from him.' When they do this he then is held responsible for his animosity to us (Ahl al-Bayt). At this point his privacy is disregarded in heaven and on earth and the angels will say, 'O Lord Your servant is disgraced.' Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, will reveal this to them: 'Had Allah any interest in him He would not have commanded you to remove your wings from him.'"

Ibn Faddal has narrated a similar Hadith from ibn Muskan.

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from Harun ibn Muslim from Mas'adah ibn Sadaqa who has said the following:

"I heard abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, 'Of the major sins is to Despair from the mercy of Allah and Losing hope of receiving happiness from Allah, to feel secure of the punishment of Allah, murdering a soul that Allah has made unlawful to murder, keeping good relations with parents on hold and disregarded, consuming the property of orphans unjustly, consuming unlawful interest in trade despite evidence, alienation from religion after accepting the same, accusing married women of committing indecent acts and running away from the enemy in the battlefield during an offensive.' The Imam then was asked, 'A person who commits a major sin and dies, does he lose his belief and if he will be punished will he be punished like a pagan or that his punishment will discontinue?' The Imam said, 'He will lose his Islam if he would think that such acts are lawful and for this reason he will face the most intense torment. However, if he would acknowledge that they are major sins and it is unlawful for him to commit them and that he will be punished for them and that they are unlawful, then he will be punished but not as intensely as the one mentioned before. It causes him to lose belief but not Islam.'"

A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Khalid from his father in a marfu' manner from Muhammad ibn Dawud al-Ghanawi from Asbagh ibn Nubatah who has said the following:

"Once a man came to Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and said, 'O Amir al-Mu'minin, certain people think a servant of Allah, who is a believer, does not fornicate, commit theft, drink wine, consume unlawful interest in trade, and does not spill blood that is not lawful to spill. This has become heavy on me and my chest feels constrained when I think that this servant (of Allah) prays the way I do, pleads to Allah the way I do, marries from us and agrees we marry from them, he can inherit us and I can inherit him but is out of belief just because of a few sins.' Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said, 'You spoke the truth. I heard the Messenger of Allah saying, and evidence to it is the book of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, 'People are of three categories and of three stages as mentioned in the book of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy: people of the right, people of the left and the foremost people. The foremost people are the Messenger prophets and non-Messenger prophets. In these people Allah has placed five spirits: The Holy Spirit, the spirit of belief, the spirit of power, the spirit of desire and the spirit of the body. With the Holy Spirit they were raised as the prophets who were Messengers and non-Messengers and with this they received the knowledge about things. With the spirit of belief they worshipped Allah and did not consider anything as His partners. With the spirit of power they performed Jihad (hard work in the way of Allah) and managed their living. With the spirit of desire they enjoyed food, lawful carnal relations with young women. With the spirit of the body they were able to move and walk around. These people are forgiven and no sin is recorded against them. Then he (the Messenger of Allah) said, 'Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, 'We gave certain ones of Our Messengers preference over others. There are those to whom Allah spoke and He raised the rank of certain others. We gave authoritative proof to Jesus, son of Mary, and supported him by means of the Holy Spirit. . . .' (2:253) Then about one group He has said, 'He has supported them with a spirit from Him.' He (Allah) says that He has given them honor with it and has granted excellence over the others. These are forgiven and no sins are recorded against them.'

"He (the Messenger of Allah) then mentioned the people of the right hand and they are the believers in truth, in reality. Allah has placed four spirits in them: The spirit of belief, the spirit of power, the spirit of desire and the spirit of the body. A servant continues to perfect these four spirits and goes through conditions.' The man then asked, 'O Amir al-Mu'minin, what are these conditions?' The Imam said, 'The first condition is as Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, 'Certain individuals among you will grow to an extremely old age and lose their memory. . . .' (16:70) All the spirits in him reduce and it is not a case wherein he is out of the religion of Allah. It is because the agent has returned him to the weakest point of life. He does not recognize the time for prayer, he is not able to perform Tahajjud (prayer at night) nor is he able to stand up in line with people. It is a reduction in the spirit of belief but it does not harm him. In certain ones of them the spirit of power is reduced; thus, they are not able to fight the enemy or make a living. In others the spirit of desire is reduced and a time comes when the daughters of Adam show no passion for him; he does not stand up. The spirit of the body remains with him. He moves and walks around until the angel of death comes. This condition is good because Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, is the power behind it. He faces other conditions when he is strong and young. He thinks of committing sins and the spirit of power encourages him, the spirit of desire makes it attractive to him and the spirit of the body leads him until he falls in sin. If he faces weakness in belief and it moves away from him it (belief) will not return to him before repentance. If he then repents, Allah turns to him (with forgiveness) but if he repeats the sin, Allah sends him to fire.'

"The people of the left are the Jews and the Christians as Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, 'Those to whom We have given the Book (Bible) know you (Muhammad) just as good as they know their sons.' They know Muhammad and al-Walayah (the status of people who possess Divine Authority) from the Torah and the Gospel just as they know their sons in their homes. ' . . . It is clear that certain individuals among them deliberately hide the truth. (2:146) Never doubt that the essence of truth (that you are the Messenger of Allah to them) comes from your Lord.' (2:147) When they rejected what they knew Allah placed them under the trial. He removed the spirit of belief from them and allowed the three spirits to remain in them: The spirit of power, the spirit of desire and the spirit of the body. Thereafter He added them to the animals saying, 'They are like cattle or even more, straying and confused.' (25:44) The animals carry loads because of the spirit of power, feed themselves because of the spirit of desire and move around because of the spirit of the body.' The man who had asked the question then said, 'You brought life to my heart by the permission of Allah, O Amir al-Mu'minin, recipient of divine supreme covenant.'"

"Once I asked abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about the words of the Messenger of Allah, 'When a man fornicates, the spirit of belief departs him.' The narrator has said that the Imam said, 'It is like the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, ["". . . do not even think of spending for the cause of Allah worthless things that you yourselves would be reluctant to accept. . . ." The companions said, 'O Messenger of Allah, we are in a barren land and there is no firewood around here.' He said, 'Let everyone bring whatever he can.' They collected firewood and placed one piece over the other before him. The Messenger of Allah then said, 'This is how sins also accumulate.' Then he said, 'You must never commit al-Muhaqqarat (see Hadith 1 above) of sins; everything is in demand. You must know that the finder of sins writes them down: "It is We Who bring the dead to life and record the deeds of human beings and their consequences (of continual effects). We keep everything recorded in an illustrious Imam (leader or Book)."' (36:12)

"Joseph, Yusuf, peace be upon him, met his old father, Ya'qub and because of majestic feeling of a king he did not dismount. Jibril (Gabriel) descended to him and said, 'O Yusuf, (look on) your palm.' A shining light came out and went into the sky. Joseph asked, 'O Jibril (Gabriel), what was that light that came out of my palm?' He said, 'Prophet-hood was removed from your descendents as punishment for not dismounting to the old Ya'qub, thus, there will be no prophet in your descendents.'"

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu 'Umayr from certain individuals of his people from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
"Every servant (of Allah) has in his head a certain degree of wisdom being held therein by an angel. When he expresses arrogance the angel says, 'Be humble, may Allah bring you low.' Thereafter he thinks himself to be the greatest of people but in the eyes of the people he remains the lowest of all. When he behaves humbly, Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, lifts him up. The angel then says, 'Be lofty, may Allah grant you dignity.' He thereafter remains the lowest of all people before his own soul and the most dignified in the eyes of people.'"

It is narrated from him (narrator of the Hadith above) from Sa'id ibn Janah from his brother abu 'Amir from a man from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from Ali ibn Asbat from Ahmad ibn 'Umar al-Hallal from Ali ibn Suwayd who has said the following:
"Once I asked abu al-Hassan, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about the feeling of self-importance that destroys good deeds. The Imam said, 'The feeling of self-importance is of several degrees. Of such feeling is that one's bad deeds seem attractive to him. He considers it good and it gives him a feeling of self-importance. He thinks that he is doing well. Of such a feeling is that a servant (of Allah) believes in his Lord and begins to like doing a favor to Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, in fact, Allah has done him the favor.'"

H 2568, CH 121, h 4
Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu ‘Umayr from ‘Abd al-Rahman ibn al-Hajjaj from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“Two people went to a Mosque. One was a worshipper and the other a sinful one. They left the Mosque. The sinner was a true believer, but the worshipper had become a sinner. It so happened, because the worshipper went to the Mosque boastful of his worshipping, thus, his thoughts were all the time on boastfulness. The sinner was regretful for his sins and was asking forgiveness from Allah.”

May Allah not bring you near by.’ Satan said, ‘I came to offer you greetings of peace because of your closeness to Allah.’ The Imam said, ‘Moses then asked, ‘What is this hooded cloak for?’ He said, ‘With this I kidnap the hearts of the children of Adam.’ Moses said, ‘Tell me which sin is it that when the children of Adam commit it you feel successful?’ He said, ‘It is when he feels self-important, his good deeds are a great deal and his sins trivial.’

Thereafter it is Greed, the sin of Adam and Eve. When Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, told them, ‘Enjoy the foods therein, but do not go near a certain tree lest you become of the transgressors.’ (2:35) They took what they did not need and it remained in their descendents to the Day of Judgment. For this reason most of the things that the children of Adam want do not need them. Thereafter is Envy. It is the sin of the son of Adam who envied his brother and killed him. From this branches love for women, love for the world, love to become the leader, the love to be comfortable, the love to speak, the love to be superior and rich. They total seven characteristics and all are found in the love for the world. The prophets and the scholars after knowing this have said, ‘Love for the world is the head of all sins.’ The world is of two kinds: The world of bare necessities and the condemned one.’”

Through the same chain of narrators it is narrated from al-Minqari from Hafs ibn Ghiyath from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
“It is in the conversations of Moses: ‘O Moses, the world is the home of suffering. I caused Adam to suffer in it when he made a mistake and I have condemned it. Everything in it is condemned except what is for Me. O Moses, My virtuous servants reduce their interests in the world proportionate to the degree of their knowledge, and other creatures developed interest in it proportionate to the degree of their ignorance. There is no one who for his appreciation of the world has found any delight to his eyes and no one belittled it but that he found benefits in it.’”

A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Khalid from Mansur ibn al-'Abbas from Sa'id ibn Janah from 'Uthman ibn Sa'id from 'Abd al-Hamid ibn Ali al-Kufi from Muhajir al-Asadi from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"Once Jesus, son of Mary, passed by a town, in which people, birds and animals had all died. Jesus said, 'They all have died from violence. Had they died individually they would have buried each other.' The disciples said, 'O Spirit of Allah and His word, pray to Allah to bring them to life so we may ask about their deeds and avoid them (bad ones).' Jesus prayed to his Lord and from space he was told to call them. Jesus at night stood on a high ground that dominated the town and said, 'O people of the town?' A certain individual replied, 'Yes, O the Spirit of Allah and His word.' He then said, 'Woe upon you. What kind of deeds did you have?' He said, 'We worshipped the devil, loved the world with little fear, had long hopes and neglectfully engaged in useless and playful activities.' Jesus asked, 'How was your love of the world?' He replied, 'It was like a child's love for his mother. When it came to us we rejoiced in happiness and when it went away we felt sad and cried.' He then asked, 'How was your worship of the devil?' He replied, 'It was obedience to the sinful people.' Jesus asked, 'How were the consequences of your activities?' He replied, 'We spent one night in comfort and in the morning we found ourselves in Hawiyah (a place in hell).' Jesus asked, 'What is Hawiyah?' He said, 'It is Sijjin' Jesus asked, 'What is Sijjin?' He said, 'It is a mountain of burning coal that smolders upon us to the Day of Judgment.' Jesus asked, 'What did you say and what was said to you?' He replied, 'We said, 'Return us to the worldly life so we can live piously, and it was said to us, "You are lying."' Jesus asked, 'Why do not the others of you talk to me?' He said, 'O Spirit of Allah, they are harnessed with a harness of fire which is in the hands of stern and strong angels. I was among them, but not one of them. When punishment struck it took me with them. I am hanged by a hair on the brink of hell and I do not know if I will be saved or thrown into hell.' Jesus then turned to the disciples and said, 'Friends of Allah, eating dried up bread with not so pleasant salt and sleeping on the trash collection sites is much better in good health and safety in this world and in the next life.'"

You do not work for the next life where you will not receive any sustenance without work. Woe upon you. You are bad scholars. You receive payments but destroy the work. Perhaps the worshippers' deeds are accepted and perhaps they will be taken out of the narrow space of this world to the darkness of the grave. How can one be of the scholars who is on his way to the next life while he is holding to the world and what is harmful to him is more beloved to him than what is beneficial to him?'"

"Once I went to see abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant. The Imam on his own initiation said to me, 'O Sama'a, what was that between you and your camel man? Beware of becoming abusive, loud and using foul language.' I (the narrator) then said, 'By Allah, it happened but he did injustice to me.' The Imam said, 'If he has done injustice to you, you have gained over him. This is not among my behaviors and I do not command my Shi'a (followers) to behave as such. Ask forgiveness from your Lord and do not repeat.' I then said, 'I ask forgiveness from Allah and I will not repeat.'"

"If Allah creates a servant as an unbeliever in the beginning of his creation he will not die until He makes evil seem attractive to him so he draws nearer to evil. He then makes him turn out as arrogant and tyrannical. His heart then hardens, his behavior worsens, his face thickens (shameless), his obscenity becomes public, his bashfulness reduces and Allah opens his secrets. Thereafter unlawful dealing becomes his way of life and he does not separate from it. He then grows disobedient to Allah all the time and begins to hate obedience to Allah. He then moves on the offensive against people and is never satisfied with quarrels.

Thus, you must ask Allah to grant you well-being, and you must seek to achieve it from Him.’”

“The narrator has said that he then said, Ibrahim said, ‘In fact, it is the large one among them who has done it. Ask them if they can speak.’ (22:63) The Imam said, ‘By Allah, they did not do it and he did not lie.’ The narrator has said that abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, then asked, ‘What explanation do you have, O al-Sayqal?’ I (the narrator) then said, ‘We have no explanation, but accept it as is.’ The narrator has said that the Imam then said, ‘Allah loves two things and hates two things: He loves shows of arrogance between two fighting armies and loves lies to establish peace. He hates shows of arrogance on the roads and lies in the matters other than establishing reform. The Imam said, 'It is because he did not ask his brother (in belief) to maintain good brotherly relations and did not ignore his words. I heard my father saying, "Whenever two people dispute and one of them over power the other, the oppressed should turn to his companion and say to him, 'O brother (in belief), I am the unjust,'" so that forsaking and abandonment would not take place among them. Allah, the Most Blessed, the Most High, is the Judge with justice, He judges with justice for the oppressed against the oppressor.'"

"Once I ('Isa) said to abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, 'My brothers and cousins have made life very difficult for me. They have forced me out of the house to another house. If I talk to them I am capable to take away what is in their hands.' The Imam said, 'Be patient. Allah will make a way out for you.' I (the narrator) changed my mind. In the year one hundred thirty-one a plague came and they all died. No one of them was left alive. I (the narrator) then went to see the Imam, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and he asked me, 'How is the condition of your family?' I said, 'By Allah, all of them have died and not one is left alive.' The Imam said, 'It was because of their failing to maintain good relations with you, suspending you from their favors, withholding kindness from relatives and boycotting them. Do you love and wish that they remained alive even though they caused you difficulties?' I said, 'Yes, by Allah (I do wish so).'" taking a false oath to oppose Allah thereby. Of the acts of obedience with the quickest best result is to maintain good relations with relatives. A people may happen to be unjust in their affairs but maintain good relations with relatives, their wealth increases and they grow rich. False oath and failing to maintain good relations with relatives can leave a town in ruins, empty of the inhabitants and transform the family. Transformation of family is discontinuation of the lineage and reproduction.'"

Obstructing One's Brother (In Belief)

"Abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, 'Any believer who creates a barrier between himself and another believer, Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, will create between him and paradise seventy thousand walls, each one apart from the other by a distance of a one thousand year journey.'"

H 2775, CH 151, h 2
Ali ibn Muhammad has narrated from Muhammad ibn Jumhur from Ahmad ibn al-Husayn from his father from Isma'il ibn Muhammad from Muhammad ibn Sinan who has said the following:
"Once I was in the presence of al-Rida, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and he stated to me as follows: 'O Muhammad, in the time of the children of Israel there were four believing people. One of them once went to the house where the other three had gathered together for a meeting on a certain issue among them. He knocked the door and a slave came to him. He then asked, 'Where is your master?' The slave replied, 'He is not home.' The man returned back and the slave went inside. His master asked, 'Who was at the door?' The slave replied, 'It was so and so and I told him that you were not home.' He remained quiet without regretting or blaming the slave for his false reply, nor did the other two show any concern for the return of their friend from the door and they continued talking. Next morning the man (their friend) came to the door very early and met the other three when they were leaving to go to a certain property that belonged to one of them. He offered them his greeting of peace and said, 'I also want to come with you.' They agreed but did not apologize to him for their attitude the day before. The man was needy or weak. On a certain part of the way a piece of cloud appeared over their heads with shadows and they thought it might rain. They began to move faster. When the cloud reached exactly over their heads an announcer announced from the cloud, 'O fire, strike them. I am Jibril (Gabriel), the Messenger of Allah.' Suddenly, fire from the cloud snatched the three away and the man remained frightened and astonished for what had happened to the other people. He did not know the reason. He came to the city and met Yusha' ibn Nun (peace be upon him). He explained to him what he had seen and heard.

Ali ibn Muhammad has narrated from Salih ibn abu Hammad from a man of the people of Kufah from abu Khalid al-Kabuli from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
"Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has made religion into two kingdoms; the kingdom of Adam, which is the kingdom of Allah, and the kingdom of Satan. When Allah wants to be worshipped publicly such time is the time of the kingdom of Adam. When Allah wants to be worshipped in hiding and secretly, such time is the time of the kingdom of Satan. The publisher of what Allah wants to remain secret is out of the limits and sanctuary of religion."

Chapter One Hundred Fifty Eight
Immediate Punishment of Sins

H 2809, CH 158, h 1
Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father and a number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad all from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn abu Nasr from Aban from a man from abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
"The Messenger of Allah has said, 'If you find five things, then seek refuge to Allah against them: indecency has never become manifest in a people to the limit of an open performance, but that a plague and such pains that were never experienced before by their ancestors will appear among them. People who cheat in weighing and measurements face a famine, harsh conditions of living and injustice of the king. If a people deny payment of al-Zakat (charity) they will be denied rains from the skies. Were it not for the existence of animals no rain would come down upon them. If a people disregard the covenant of Allah, and the Messenger of Allah, Allah will make dominant over them their enemy and will take away certain items of their possession. If a people judge their cases by that which is not from Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, will make them to suffer a civil war.'"

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father and a number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad all from ibn Mahbub from Malik ibn 'Atiyyah from abu Hamza from abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
"We have found in the book of the Messenger of Allah the following: after my leaving this world when fornication will turn out to be apparent among people, sudden death will take place more frequently. When weighing and measurement will become light, people will face famine and shortages of livelihood. When they deny paying al-Zakat (charity) the land will deny them its blessings of all of its farming, fruits and minerals. When people become unjust in their judgment, they will cooperate in injustice and animosity. When they disregard their covenant, Allah will make their enemies dominate them. When they fail to maintain good relations with relatives, properties will go in the hands of evildoers. When people stop commanding the fulfillment of obligations and prohibiting the unlawful matters and do not follow the virtuous people of my family, Allah will make their evil people dominate them. Their virtuous ones will pray but their prayers will not be heard."

A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from Bakr ibn Muhammad from al-Ja'fari who has said the following:
"I heard abu al-Hassan, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, 'Why is it that I find you with 'Abd al-Rahman ibn Ya'qub?' I (the narrator) then said, 'It is because he is my uncle from my mother's side.' The Imam said, 'He says great heavy words about Allah. He describes Allah who is beyond description. You either sit with him and leave us or sit with us and leave him.' I then said, 'He may say anything he wants but what does that have to do with me when I say none of the things that he says?' Abu al-Hassan, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said, 'Are you not afraid of the misfortune that may befall him and involve all of you also? Do you not know about the thing that happened to the people of Moses? The father of one of them was of the people of the Pharaoh. When the Pharaoh's horsemen approached Moses, he withdrew himself from Moses to convince his father to join Moses but his father kept moving while he argued against his father until they reached the shore and both were drowned. The news reached Moses and he said, 'He is in the mercy of Allah, but when misfortune falls there is no defense for those who are close to the sinners.'"

A number of our people have narrated from Sahl ibn Ziyad from 'Amr ibn 'Uthman from Muhammad ibn 'Adhafir from certain individuals of his people from Muhammad ibn Muslim or abu Hamza from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, from his father, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
"Once Ali ibn al-Husayn, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said to me, 'My son, beware of five kinds of people and do not associate with, speak to and accompany them on the road.' I then asked, 'Who are they O father?' He then said, 'You must not accompany a lying person; he is like a phantom. He tells you of what, in fact, is faraway to be very near and what, in fact, is near to be very far. You must not associate with a sinful person; he may sell you for a single loaf or even less to this or that person. You must not associate with a stingy person; he leaves you out in the cold in financial matters in your desperate conditions. You must not associate with a silly person; he may want to benefit you instead he causes you harm.
"You must not associate one who has failed to maintain good relations with relatives; I have found him as condemned in three places of the book of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, 'If you ignore the commands of Allah, would you then also spread evil in the land and sever the ties of kinship? (47:22) Allah has condemned these people and made them deaf, dumb, and blind.' (47:23) 'Those who disregard their covenant with Allah after He has taken such a pledge from them, who sever the proper relations that Allah has commanded them to establish, and those who spread evil in the land will have Allah's condemnation instead of reward and will face the most terrible end.' (13:25) '. . . The evil doers (2:26) who break their established covenant with Him and the relations He has commanded to be kept and who spread evil in the land; these are the ones who lose a great deal.'" (2:27)

You will become like them. Allah will gather all the hypocrites and the unbelievers together in hellfire.' You must not sit there to associate with them: a gathering wherein there is one whose tongue speaks lies in his Fatwas (legal opinion), a gathering wherein our enemies are praised freshly and we are mentioned as old (of less value) ones, and a gathering wherein obstacles are created for us and you know it.' The Imam then read three verses from the book of Allah as if they were in his mouth (or as if they were on his palms): 'O believers, do not say bad words against the idols lest they (pagans) in their hostility and ignorance say such words against Allah.'(6:108) 'When you see people mocking Our revelations, turn away from them so that they may change the subject. . . .' Whoever abuses Ali, recipient of divine supreme covenant, allow the condemnation of Allah be upon him. We renounce the people of the family of Marwan and all that they worship besides Allah.’ He then would lower his voice and say, ‘Do not sit with those who abuse the friends of Allah. Do not sit with those who doubt our belief and do not accept them as your judge. If any of your brothers (in belief) would need to ask you questions (help), then you have violated your trust with him (for not helping before his appeal).’ He then would read, ‘. . . For the unjust We have prepared a fire which will engulf them with its flames. Whenever they cry for help they will be answered with water as hot as liquefied brass, which will blister their faces. How terrible is such a drink and such a resting place!’” (18:29)

A number of our people have narrated from Sahl ibn Ziyad from Ali ibn Asbat from Sulaym Mawla Tirbal who has said the Hisham narrated to him from Hamza ibn al-Tayyar who has said the following:
“Once abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said to me, ‘People are of six categories.’ I then asked, ‘Can I write them down?’ The Imam said, ‘Yes, you can do so.’ I then asked, ‘What should I write?’ The Imam said, ‘Write down: the people promised paradise and those warned against the fire (but ignored it). Write down, “. . . others of them have already confessed their sins and have mixed virtuous deeds with sinful ones.”’ (9:102) I then asked, ‘Who are such people?’ The Imam said, ‘Wahshi (assassin of Hamza) is one of them.’ The Imam said, ‘Write down, “There are others who have no good deeds for which they may receive any reward or sins for which they may be punished. . . .” (9:106) The Imam said, ‘Write down, “As for the really weak and oppressed men, women, and children who were not able to find any means of obtaining their freedom or of having the right guidance, (4:98) [are not able to do anything against the unbelievers or find the right guidance] perhaps Allah will forgive them; He is All-merciful and All-forgiving.” (4:99) The Imam said, ‘Write down the people of ‘A’raf.’ I asked, ‘Who are they?’ The Imam said, ‘They are the people whose good and bad deeds measure equally. If they will be sent to the fire it will be due to their sins and if they will be sent to paradise it will be due to His kindness.’”

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from Muhammad ibn ‘Isa from ‘Ubayd from Yunus from Hammad from Hamza ibn al-Tayyar from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
“People are of six categories. All of them come from three groups: people of belief, disbelief and straying. All three are the people of two promises. Allah has promised paradise and fire. There are the believers, and the unbelievers. Besides, there are the weak ones who hope in the command of Allah whereby they may be punished or forgiven and there are those who have confessed to their sins and have mixed good deeds with bad deeds. Also there are the people of ‘A’raf. (Straying people are of four groups and with the other two: believing people and unbelievers total six groups).”

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu ‘Umayr from Hisham ibn Salim from Zurara who has said the following:
“Once Humran and I or Bukayr and I went in the presence of abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and I said, ‘We use the Mitmar.’ The Imam said, ‘What is the Mitmar?’ I said, ‘It is a measuring device. Whoever of ‘Alawi or none ‘Alawi agrees with us we love them and whoever, ‘Alawi or none ‘Alawi opposes us, we disavow them.’ The Imam said, ‘O Zurara, the words of Allah are more true than your words. Where are those about whom Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, ‘As for the really weak and oppressed men, women, and children who were not able to find any means of obtaining their freedom or of having the right guidance,’ (4:98) and where are those who have hope in Allah’s command? Where are those who mix good deeds with bad deeds? Where are the people of ‘A’raf and where are people whose hearts incline to the truth?’”
“Hammad has added in the Hadith: The voices of abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and I became loud and people at the door could hear them.
“Jamil from Zurara has added: When many words were exchanged between him and I, he said, ‘O Zurara, it is a right on Allah not to send the straying people to paradise.’”

Chapter One Hundred Sixty One
Disbelief

بَابُ الْكُفْرِ

H 2830, CH 161, h1
A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from al-Hassan ibn Mahbub from Dawud ibn Kathir al-Raqqi who has said the following:
“Once I asked abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, ‘Are the traditions, Sunan of the Messenger of Allah like the obligations Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has sanctioned?’ The Imam said, ‘Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has sanctioned obligations that are compulsory for the servants (of Allah). Whoever ignores an obligation of the compulsory ones; does not perform it and rejects it, he becomes an unbeliever. The Messenger of Allah has commanded certain matters to be performed and they all are good deeds. One does not become an unbeliever for ignoring a few of the obligations that Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has commanded His servant to perform, however, he has ignored a virtue and has cut down goodness.’”

٢- عَلِيُّ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ حَمادِ بْنِ عِيسَى عَنْ حَرِيزٍ عَنْ زُرَارَةَ عَنْ أَبِي جَعْفَرٍ ع قَالَ وَ اللهِ إِن الْكُفْرُ لَأَقْدَمُ مِنَ الشرْكِ وَ أَخْبَثُ وَ أَعْظَمُ قَالَ ثُم ذَكَرَ كُفْرَ إِبْلِيسَ حِينَ قَالَ اللهُ لَهُ اسْجُدْ لِآدَمَ فَأَبى أَنْ يَسْجُدَ فَالْكُفْرُ أَعْظَمُ مِنَ الشرْكِ فَمَنِ اخْتَارَ عَلَى اللهِ عَز وَ جَل وَ أَبى الطاعَةَ وَ أَقَامَ عَلَى الْكَبائِرِ فَهُوَ كَافِر وَ مَنْ نَصَبَ دِيناً غَيْرَ دِينِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ فَهُوَ مُشْرِك

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from Hammad ibn ‘Isa from Hariz from Zurara from abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
“By Allah, disbelief is before paganism and it is greater in filth. The narrator has said that the Imam then mentioned the disbelief of Satan when Allah told him to bow down before Adam and refused to prostrate, that disbelief is greater than considering things partners of Allah. Whoever chooses something instead of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, refuses to obey and commits major sins is an unbeliever. One who establishes a religion other than the religion of the believers has considered things as partners of Allah.”

٣- عَلِيُّ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَنْ مُحَمدِ بْنِ عِيسَى عَنْ يُونُسَ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ بُكَيْرٍ عَنْ زُرَارَةَ عَنْ أَبِي جَعْفَرٍ ع قَالَ ذُكِرَ عِنْدَهُ سَالِمُ بْنُ أَبِي حَفْصَةَ وَ أَصْحَابُهُ فَقَالَ إِنهُمْ يُنكِرُونَ أَنْ يَكُونَ مَنْ حَارَبَ عَلِيّاً ع مُشْرِكِينَ فَقَالَ أَبُو جَعْفَرٍ ع فَإِنهُمْ يَزْعُمُونَ أَنهُمْ كُفار ثُم قَالَ لِي إِن الْكُفْرَ أَقْدَمُ مِنَ الشرْكِ ثُم ذَكَرَ كُفْرَ إِبْلِيسَ حِينَ قَالَ لَهُ اسْجُدْ فَأَبى أَنْ يَسْجُدَ وَ قَالَ الْكُفْرُ أَقْدَمُ مِنَ الشرْكِ فَمَنِ اجْتَرَى عَلَى اللهِ فَأَبى الطاعَةَ وَ أَقَامَ عَلَى الْكَبائِرِ فَهُوَ كَافِر يَعْنِي مُسْتَخِف كَافِر

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from Muhammad ibn ‘Isa from Yunus from ‘Abd Allah ibn Bukayr from Zurara from abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
“The narrator has said that once Salim ibn abu Hafs and his companions were mentioned before abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and that they denied that those who waged war against Ali, recipient of divine supreme covenant, are of the people who consider things as partners of Allah (Mushrik). Abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said, ‘So they think such people are unbelievers.’ The Imam then said to me, ‘Disbelief is before paganism.’ He (the Imam) then mentioned Satan when Allah told him to prostrate, and he refused to do so. The Imam said that disbelief is before al-Shirk (paganism and considering things as partners of Allah). Whoever boldly disobeys Allah and commits major sins is an unbeliever. He has considered belief insignificant so he is an unbeliever.’”

٤- عَنْهُ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللهِ بْنِ بُكَيْرٍ عَنْ زُرَارَةَ عَنْ حُمْرَانَ بْنِ أَعْيَنَ قَالَ سَأَلْتُ أَبَا عَبْدِ اللهِ ع عَنْ قَوْلِهِ عَز وَ جَل إِنا هَدَيْناهُ السبِيلَ إِما شاكِراً وَ إِما كَفُوراً قَالَ إِما آخِذٌ فَهُوَ شَاكِر وَ إِما تَارِك فَهُوَ كَافِر

It is narrated from him (narrator of the Hadith above) from ‘Abd Allah ibn Bukayr from Zurara from Humran ibn ‘A’yun who has said the following:
“Once I asked abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, ‘We showed him the right path, whether he would be grateful or ungrateful.’ (76:3) The Imam said, ‘If he accepts it (belief), he is then grateful or rejects it; he then is an unbeliever.’”

Al-Husayn ibn Muhammad has narrated from Mu'alla ibn Muhammad from al-Hassan ibn Ali from Hammad ibn ‘Uthman from ‘Ubayd from Zurara who has said the following:
“Once I asked abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, ‘The deeds of anyone who rejects belief, certainly, become fruitless. He, on the Day of Judgment will be of those who lose.’ (5:5) The Imam said, ‘It is disregarding the deeds that he has confessed to be true. Of such deeds is disregarding prayer without suffering from illness or being preoccupied.’”

٦- عِدةٌ مِنْ أَصْحَابِنَا عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ زِيَادٍ عَنْ عَلِي بْنِ أَسْبَاطٍ عَنْ مُوسَى بْنِ بُكَيْرٍ قَالَ سَأَلْتُ أَبَا الْحَسَنِ ع عَنِ الْكُفْرِ وَ الشرْكِ أَيهُمَا أَقْدَمُ قَالَ فَقَالَ لِي مَا عَهْدِي بِكَ تُخَاصِمُ الناسَ قُلْتُ أَمَرَنِي هِشَامُ بْنُ سَالِمٍ أَنْ أَسْأَلَكَ عَنْ ذَلِكَ فَقَالَ لِي الْكُفْرُ أَقْدَمُ وَ هُوَ الْجُحُودُ

A number of our people have narrated from Sahl ibn Ziyad from Ali ibn Asbat from Musa ibn Bukayr who has said the following:
“Once I asked abu al-Hassan, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about disbelief and al-Shirk (paganism) as to which is before. The Imam said to me, ‘I have not experienced your involvement in polemics among the people.’ I then said, ‘Hisham ibn Salim has ordered me to ask you this question.’ The Imam said, ‘Disbelief is before and it is denial and rejection.

Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, ". . . except Iblis (Satan) who abstained out of pride, and so he became one of those who deny the truth.'" (2:34)

قَالَ اللهُ عَز وَ جَل إِلا إِبْلِيسَ أَبى وَ اسْتَكْبَرَ وَ كانَ مِنَ الْكافِرِينَ

H 2836, CH 161, h 7

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu 'Umayr from 'Abd al-Rahman ibn al-Hajjaj from Zurara who has said the following:

"Once I asked abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, 'Will a believer go in the fire?' The Imam said, 'No, by Allah.' I then asked, 'So no one will be sent in the fire except the unbelievers?' The Imam said, 'No, except whoever Allah wills.' I (the narrator) repeated my question several times and the Imam said, 'O Zurara, I say, "No," and I say, 'Except whoever Allah will wish' and you say, "No," but do not say, 'Except whoever Allah will wish.'"

٧- عَلِي بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنِ ابْنِ أَبِي عُمَيْرٍ عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَحْمَنِ بْنِ الْحَجاجِ عَنْ زُرَارَةَ قَالَ قُلْتُ لِأَبِي جَعْفَرٍ ع يَدْخُلُ النارَ مُؤْمِن قَالَ لَا وَ اللهِ قُلْتُ فَمَا يَدْخُلُهَا إِلا كَافِر قَالَ لَا إِلا مَنْ شَاءَ اللهُ فَلَما رَدَدْتُ عَلَيْهِ مِرَاراً قَالَ لِي أَيْ زُرَارَةُ إِنِي أَقُولُ لَا وَ أَقُولُ إِلا مَنْ شَاءَ اللهُ وَ أَنتَ تَقُولُ لَا وَ لَا تَقُولُ إِلا مَنْ شَاءَ اللهُ قَالَ فَحَدثَنِي هِشَامُ بْنُ الْحَكَمِ وَ حَماد عَنْ زُرَارَةَ قَالَ قُلْتُ فِي نَفْسِي شَيْخ لَا عِلْمَ لَهُ بِالْخُصُومَةِ قَالَ فَقَالَ لِي يَا زُرَارَةُ مَا تَقُولُ فِيمَنْ أَقر لَكَ بِالْحُكْمِ أَ تَقْتُلُهُ مَا تَقُولُ فِي خَدَمِكُمْ وَ أَهْلِيكُمْ أَ تَقْتُلُهُمْ قَالَ فَقُلْتُ أَنَا وَ اللهِ الذِي لَا عِلْمَ لِي بِالْخُصُومَةِ

Ibn abu 'Umayr has said that Hisham ibn al-Hakam and Hammad have narrated from Zurara who has said the following:

"I said to myself, 'An old man has no knowledge of polemics.' The narrator (Zurara) has said the Imam said to me, 'O Zurara, what do you say about one who says, 'I am at your command (whatever you say in matters of belief I accept). Will you kill him? What do you say about your servants and people very closely related to you? Will you kill them?'

"I (the narrator) then said to myself, 'I am the one who has no knowledge of polemics.'"

H 2837, CH 161, h 8

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from Harun ibn Muslim from Mas'adah ibn Sadaqa who has said the following:

"I heard abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, when he was asked about disbelief and paganism which one was first, 'Disbelief is first. Satan was the first to become an unbeliever and his disbelief was something other than al-Shirk (paganism) he did not invite to worship anyone other than Allah, he invited to such worship afterwards and thus, became a pagan.'"

٨- عَلِي بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَنْ هَارُونَ بْنِ مُسْلِمٍ عَنْ مَسْعَدَةَ بْنِ صَدَقَةَ قَالَ سَمِعْتُ أَبَا عَبْدِ اللهِ ع وَ سُئِلَ عَنِ الْكُفْرِ وَ الشرْكِ أَيهُمَا أَقْدَمُ فَقَالَ الْكُفْرُ أَقْدَمُ وَ ذَلِكَ أَن إِبْلِيسَ أَولُ مَنْ كَفَرَ وَ كَانَ كُفْرُهُ غَيْرَ شِرْكٍ لِأَنهُ لَمْ يَدْعُ إِلَى عِبَادَةِ غَيْرِ اللهِ وَ إِنمَا دَعَا إِلَى ذَلِكَ بَعْدُ فَأَشْرَكَ

Harun has narrated from Mas'adah ibn Sadaqa who has said the following:

"I heard abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, when he was asked, 'Why is it that a fornicator is not considered an unbeliever as one ignoring the prayer is? What is the reason and evidence?' The Imam said, 'A fornicator and so forth commits such act due to lust that influences him, while one ignoring the prayer does so due to his considering it insignificant. You do not find a fornicator contact a female for any other reason besides lust and desire that motivates him. One who ignores the prayer does not do so for pleasure. When you negate lust and pleasure then the motive is considering it insignificant, and when this happens it is disbelief.'

"The narrator has said that abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, was asked, 'What is the difference between a person's looking at a female, then fornicating or to wine, then drinking it and one who ignores the prayer? Why is it that in the two aforementioned cases it is not 'considered insignificant' as is the case with ignoring prayer? What is the proof and reason that establish a difference?' The Imam said, 'Proof is that whenever you place your soul in something without any urging motive like lust and so forth, that are found in fornication and wine. In a case such as prayer in which there is no lust and desire, then it (the motive) is considering it insignificant and that is the difference between this and the other two cases.'"

Note: Murji’a were those who did not believe in the true position of Amir al-Mu’minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, Qadriah believed in absolute free will and Harawriah was of the group who opposed Amir al-Mu’minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant.

“Once I went in the presence of abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and saw a man with him. As I sat down, the man stood up and left. The Imam said to me, ‘O Fudayl, what is this with you?’ I asked, ‘What is he?’ The Imam said, ‘He is a Harawri.’ I asked, ‘Is he an unbeliever?’ The Imam said, ‘Yes, by Allah, he is a Mushrik (one who considers things as partners of Allah).’”

The Aspects of Disbelief

H 2851, CH 162, h 1

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from Bakr ibn Salih from al-Qasim ibn Yazid from abu 'Amr al-Zubayri who has said the following:

"Once I said to abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, 'Instruct me about the kinds of disbelief (mentioned) in the book of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy.' The Imam said, 'Disbelief in the book of Allah is of five kinds:

"(1) Of disbelief is denial, which is of two kinds. (2) There is disbelief for disregarding the commands of Allah. (3) Another form of disbelief for disavowing, and (4) disbelief in the bounties is still another form of disbelief.

"Disbelief for denial is (a) denial of His Lordship and it is the belief of those who say that there is no Lord, paradise and fire. It is the belief of two kinds of atheism, called Dahriah, who say, 'It is only time that destroys us.' (45:23) It is a religion that they made for themselves on the basis of what they felt to be good with out proof and research in any of the things they say. Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, 'It is only what they guess, . . .' (45:23) their religion is based on mere guessing. Allah has said, 'Those who deny your message will not believe, whether you warn them or not.' (2:6) They will not believe in the Oneness of Allah. This is one kind of disbelief.

(b) The other kind of denial is denial of knowledge. This is when the denying person denies knowing well the truth that is established before him. Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, 'They rejected the evidence because of their arrogance and injustice, although their souls knew it to be true. . . .' (27:14) Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, '. . . despite the fact that they had been praying for victory over the disbelievers (by the help of the truthful Prophet), they refused to accept this book, even though they knew it (to be the Truth). May Allah condemn those who hide the Truth." (2:89) This is the explanation of two kinds of disbelief.'

"The third kind of disbelief is disbelief in the bounties as Allah, the Most High, has said quoting Sulayman, '. . . This is a favor from my Lord by which He wants to test whether I am grateful or ungrateful. Whoever thanks Allah, does so for his own good. Whoever is ungrateful to Allah should know that my Lord is Self-sufficient and Benevolent.' (27:40) Allah has said, 'If you give thanks, I shall give you greater (favors), but if you deny the Truth, know that My retribution is severe.' (14:7) Allah has said, ' . . . remember Me and I shall remember you. Thank Me and do not hide the truth about Me.' (2:152)

"The fourth kind of disbelief is disbelief in the form of disregard of what Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has commanded as in the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, 'We made a covenant with you that you should not shed each other's blood or expel each other from your homeland. You accepted and bore witness to this covenant, (2:84) yet you murdered each other and forced a number of your people out of their homeland, helping each other to commit sin and to be hostile to one another. When you had expelled people from their homeland and later they had been made captives (of other people), you then paid their ransom (thinking that it was a righteous deed). Allah forbade you to expel these people in the first place. Do you believe in one part of the Book and not in the other? [They are called unbelievers due to their disregard of the commands of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, and He has ascribed them to belief but He has not accepted it and it has been of no benefit before Him] and He has said, '. . . Those who behave in this way shall reap disgrace in this world and severe punishment on the Day of Resurrection. Allah is not unaware of things that you do.' (2:85)

"The fifth kind of disbelief is disbelief in the form of disavowing as in the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, quoting Ibrahim (Abraham), 'We have rejected you. Enmity and hatred will separate us forever unless you believe in Allah only. . . .' (60:4) This is disavowing. Allah has said when mentioning (the case of) Satan and his friend of man on the Day of Judgment, 'I did not agree with your belief that I was equal to Allah. . . .' (14:22) Allah has said, '. . . you believe in idols besides Allah, only out of worldly love, but on the Day of Judgment you will reject and condemn each other . . .' (29:25) That is disavowing each other.'"

Pillars and Branches of Disbelief

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from Hammad ibn 'Isa from Ibrahim ibn 'Umar al-Yamani from 'Umar ibn 'Udhaynah from Aban ibn abu 'Ayyash from Sulaym ibn Qays al-Hilali from Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"Disbelief is established on four pillars: Sinfulness, Extremism, Doubt and Skepticism. Sinfulness has four branches: harshness of manners, blindness of heart, neglect, and arrogance. Whoever behaves in a harsh manner belittles the truth, hates the people of profound understanding and persists in great sins. Whoever becomes blind of heart forgets to remember (the truth), follows guesses, opposes his Creator and Satan turns bold toward him. He asks forgiveness without repenting, feeling humble and without being unaware of sin. Whoever is neglectful and careless commits a crime against his own soul, turns himself upside down and thinks of his misguidance as guidance. Yearnings deceives him, remorse and pangs of guilt seize him and when the matters settle and the curtain is raised, he finds it to be what he did not expect. Whoever is arrogant to obey the commands of Allah doubts and whoever doubts, Allah overpowers him and humiliates him by His Authority and makes him little by His Glory as he has played deceit against his Honorable Lord and has gone to extremes in his affairs.

"Extremism is of four branches: Seeking profundity of opinion, disputation over an opinion, looking for deviations in it and creating a schism therein.

"Whoever seeks extreme complexity he does not return to the truth, and does not gain anything except sinking in deeper troubles. He does not finish removing one before another trouble overwhelms him. His religion sustains holes and he falls deeper in chaos. Whoever seeks disputation in an opinion and quarrels, his absurdity comes in the open due to prolonged controversy. Whoever deviates, goodness seems terrible to him and evil begins to look lovelier.

"Whoever creates a schism, his paths lead to dead end, his affairs burden him, his escape narrows if he would not follow the path of the believers.

"Doubt is of four branches: Suspicion, desire, hesitation and submission. It is mentioned in the words of Allah, the Most

Majestic, the Most Holy, 'About which of the bounties of your Lord can they persistently dispute and cast doubts?' (53:55)

"In another Hadith it is said, 'It branches in suspicion, fear of truth, hesitation and submission before ignorance and ignorant people.'

"Whoever fears what is before him turns back. Whoever is suspicious of religion remains hesitant in doubts and the foremost believing people move forward before him and those behind catch up with him. He turns out to be flattened under the hooves of Satan. Whoever submits to worldly destruction and that of the next life is destroyed between the two. Whoever is saved from such condition is due to the excellence of certainty. Allah has not created any creature fewer than certainty.

"Casting doubt is of four branches: a liking of attractiveness, stimulation of soul, interpretation of crookedness and mixing of truth with falsehood.

"This is because attractiveness clashes with evidence, stimulation of soul indulges in desires and crookedness bends its companion a great bent. Hiding and mixing truth with falsehood is darkness upon darkness. That is disbelief, its pillars and branches.'"

(This is part of the previous Hadith. The compiler has presented it in a separate Chapter).

"Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, 'Hypocrisy has four pillars: Desire, Neglect, Resentment and Greed.

"Desire is of four branches: disproportionate behavior, transgression, lust and insubordination. Whoever behaves disproportionately faces great risks, remains lonely and without supporters. Whoever transgresses does not remain immune to harmful consequences, his heart is not in peace and he does not control his soul against lustful matters. Whoever has not balanced his soul in lustful matters he indulges in filthy activities. Whoever acts insubordinately purposely and without evidence strays in falsehood.

"Neglect is of four branches: dishonesty, yearning, fear and procrastination. Fear and apprehension turns one away from the truth and procrastination leads to extremely reduced activities until the deadline approaches. If one does not have any yearnings he knows his true condition and measures. If he knows the true measure of his condition in which he is, he would die suddenly due to fear and apprehension. Dishonesty cuts short one's deeds.

"Resentment is of four branches: arrogance, boastfulness, egoistic, and racism. Whoever is arrogant turns his back to the truth. Whoever is boastful indulges in sins. Whoever is egoistic persists in sins. Whoever comes in the clench of racism commits injustice.

"Thus, evil is the affair that swings in deterioration, indecency, persistence and injustice on the path.

"Greed is of four branches: exhilaration, pleasure seeking, worrying and superfluity. Exhilaration is detestable before Allah. Pleasure seeking is feeblemindedness. Worrisome is a misfortune for one who is forced to carry sins. Seeking superfluity is useless, a childish manner, a vastful preoccupation and an effort to change what is of a lower quality to a better one.

“This is how hypocrisy its pillars and branches are. Allah is dominant over his servants. Speaking of Him is exalted and glory is His. He has created all things in good fashion, His hands are free, His favor is universal, His command is manifest, His light shines, His blessing overflows, His wisdom is the source of light, His book is overriding, His evidence is overwhelming, His religion is pure, His kingdom is powerful, His word is the truth, His measures are just and His messengers have already preached. Thus, He has made evil a sin, sin a misfortune and misfortune a filth.

“He has made virtuous deeds a threshold. The threshold is repentance and repentance is purification. One who repents finds guidance. One who plots goes astray, as long as he does not repent before Allah and confess to his sins. No one dares to act, to his own destruction, against Allah, except those who are doomed.

“Allah! Allah! How vast is what He has for repentance, favors, joy and great forbearance. How severe is what is before Him of retribution, hell, and a hard grip! Whoever succeeds in obedience to Him attracts His generosity. Whoever indulges in disobedience to Him he will test the results of His disapproval and very shortly he will become regretful.’”

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from al-Husayn ibn Ishaq from Ali ibn Mahziyar from Muhammad ibn ‘Abd Hamid and al-Husayn ibn Sa’id all from Muhammad ibn al-Fudayl who has said the following:

“Once I wrote to abu al-Hassan, recipient of divine supreme covenant, asking him a question and he wrote back to me, ‘The hypocrites try to deceive Allah, but He, in fact, deceives them. They stand up in prayer lazily just to show that they pray, but, in truth, they remember Allah very little. (4:142)

“They are hesitant people belonging to neither side. You can find no other way for one whom Allah has caused to go astray.’ (4:143) They are not of the unbelievers, or of the believers or of the Muslims. They claim to be of belief. They change to disbelief and denial. May Allah condemn them all.’”

Al-Husayn ibn Muhammad has narrated from Muhammad ibn Jumhur from ‘Abd Allah ibn ‘Abd al-Rahman al-‘Assam from al-Haytham ibn Waqid from Muhammad ibn Sulayman from ibn Muskan from abu Hamza from Ali ibn al-Husayn, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“Ali ibn al-Husayn, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, ‘A hypocrite forbids others, but himself does not desist from prohibited matters and commands others with what he himself does not perform. When prayer is to begin he (‘I’taraza) avoids it.’ I (the narrator) then asked, ‘O descendent of the messenger of Allah, “What is ‘I’tiraz?” The Imam said, ‘It is turning away. When he is in the Ruku’ position (kneeling) he uses it as resting place. Toward the evening his only concern is dinner, even though he is not fasting. Toward morning his only concern is more sleep, even though he has not passed the night awake worshipping. If he speaks to you, he lies. If you trust him, he breaches it. Behind your back, he backbites you and if he promises you, he disregards his promise.’” down about a man and then it applies to his followers.' I then said, 'Do those who appoint others (as people possessing Divine Authority) instead of you (Ahl al-Bayt) worship for worldly gains?' The Imam said, 'Yes, at certain cases it is just that (al-Shirk).'"

Or they find such things in their hearts, for this they will turn into Mushrik, considering things as partners of Allah.' The Imam then read this verse of the Holy Quran: 'I swear by your Lord that they will not be considered believers until they allow you to settle their disputes and then they will find nothing in their souls to prevent them from accepting your judgment, thus, submitting themselves to the will of Allah.' (4:65) Abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, then said, 'You must submit yourselves (to the command of Allah)'"

“Once I wrote to the virtuous servant (of Allah) saying that I had doubt and Ibrahim, peace be upon him, had said, ‘Lord, show me how you will bring the dead to life?’ (2: 260) and I would love that you show me something. The Imam wrote back to me, ‘Ibrahim was a believer. He wanted to increase his belief. You, however, have doubt and there is nothing good in doubt.’ The Imam further wrote, ‘Doubt comes when there is no certainty when certainty, comes then doubting is not permissible.’ He wrote further, ‘Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, “We did not find many among them keeping their promises. However, We did find many evil-doers among them.” (7:102) The Imam said, ‘It was revealed about people who doubt.’”

An individual of that family would strive for forty nights and pray, his prayers received the answer. Only one man of that family strived for forty nights and prayed but his prayer did not receive any answer. When Jesus, son of Mary came, he complained to him about his case and asked him for prayer. The Imam said that Jesus then cleansed himself, said the prayer, prayed to Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, and Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, sent revelations to Jesus that said, 'O Jesus, My servant came to Me from a door that is other than the door from which one must come to Me. He prayed and there was doubt in his heart about you. Were he to pray to Me until his neck would be cut off (disintegrate) and his fingers turn into dust, I would not answer his prayer.' The Imam said, 'Jesus then turned to the man and asked, 'Do you ask your Lord for help while you have doubt in His prophet?' The man said, 'O Spirit of Allah and His word, it has been just as you said. Pray to Allah for me to remove doubt from me.' The Imam said that Jesus than prayed for him and Allah accepted his repentance and he became like all the other ones of that family."'

‘Glory belongs to Allah, what has he done that for not knowing and not denying becomes an unbeliever? He is not an unbeliever if he does not deny and reject.’ I (the narrator) argued and then went in the presence of abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and informed him of the discussion. The Imam said, ‘You have come and they both are absent. All of you may come to me tonight by the middle Jamara (pillar of stones) in Mina.’

“That night we gathered together before him. Abu al-Khattab and Muhammad ibn Muslim also were there. The Imam picked up the pillow and held it against his chest and asked us, ‘What do you say about your servants, women, and people of your house? Do they not say, ‘No one deserves to be worshipped except Allah?’ I said, ‘Yes, they do say so.’ The Imam asked, ‘Do they not say, Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah?’ I said, ‘Yes, they do say so.’ The Imam asked, ‘Do they not perform the prayer, fast and perform Hajj?’ I said, ‘Yes, they do so.’ The Imam asked, ‘Do they know and recognize what you believe in?’ I said, ‘No, they do not do so.’ The Imam asked, ‘What are they then in your views?’ I said, ‘Anyone who does not know this cause (Divine Authority of Ahl al-Bayt) is an unbeliever.’ The Imam asked, ‘Glory belongs to Allah, have you considered the people in the streets and the water carriers?’ I said, ‘Yes, I have done so.’ The Imam asked, ‘Do they not perform the prayer, fast, and perform Hajj? Do they not testify that no one deserves to be worshipped except Allah and that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah?’ I said, ‘Yes, they do so.’ The Imam said, ‘Do they know and recognize what you believe in?’ I said, ‘No, they do not do so.’ The Imam said, ‘What are they then in your view?’ I said, ‘Anyone who does not know and recognize this cause, is an unbeliever.’ The Imam said, ‘Glory belongs to Allah, have you seen the Ka’bah, the Tawaf (walking seven times around the Ka’bah), the people of Yeman and their clinging to the curtain of the Ka’bah?’ I said, ‘Yes, I see them.’ The Imam said, ‘Do they not testify that no one deserves to be worshipped except Allah? That Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah? Do they not perform the prayer, fast, and perform Hajj?’ I said, ‘Yes they do so.’ The Imam said, ‘Do they know and recognize what you believe in?’ I said, ‘No they do not do so.’ The Imam said, ‘What do you say about them?’ I said, ‘Anyone who does not know (believe in this cause) is an unbeliever.’

“The Imam said, ‘Glory belongs to Allah, this is what al-Khawarij (the group that turned against Ali, recipient of divine supreme covenant) say.’ The Imam then said, ‘If you like, I may tell you.’ I said, ‘No, do not tell us.’ The Imam said, ‘It is evil against you to say what you have not heard from us.’ I (the narrator) then guessed that he is turning us upon the words of Muhammad ibn Muslim (namely, one is not an unbeliever until he denies and rejects the Divine Authority of Ahl al-Bayt).’”

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from Muhammad ibn ‘Isa from Yunus from a man from Zurara who has said the following:

“Once I asked abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, ‘What do you say about marriage of the people. I have reached this age as you can see and I am not married yet.’ The Imam asked, ‘What prevents you from becoming married?’ I said, ‘What prevents me is fear that it may not be lawful to marry from them. What is your instruction?’ The Imam asked, ‘How can you live and you are young, can you exercise patience?’ I said, ‘I can buy slaves.’ The Imam asked, ‘Here you are, how, can slaves be lawful?’ I said, ‘A slave is not like a free person. If something may make me suspicious I can sell her and stay away from her.' The Imam said, 'Tell me how you make her lawful.' I (the narrator) had no answers.

"I then asked him, 'What do you say if I married?' The Imam said, 'I do not mind if you marry.' I said, 'Consider your words, 'I do not mind if you did,' it has two aspects: I do not mind if you sinned without my command. What is your command? Should I do it by your command?' The Imam said, 'The Messenger of Allah had married. There are the cases of the wives of Noah and Lot as they were in wedlock with two virtuous servants (of Allah).' I said, 'The Messenger of Allah is not of the same position as I. She was under his control and acknowledged his judgment and his religion.' The Imam asked, 'What do you think of unfaithfulness in the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, 'They both were unfaithful to the two of them.' (66:9) He does not mean thereby anything other than indecent acts. The Messenger of Allah had married so and so.'

"I then said, 'May Allah keep you well, what do you command me? Should I go and marry by your command?' The Imam said to me, 'Were you to marry, you should marry al-Bulaha' of women.' I asked, 'Who are al-Bulaha' of women?' The Imam said, 'Those who observe Hijab and are chaste.' I asked, 'How is she who is in the religion of Salim ibn abu Hafsah?' The Imam said, 'No.' I said, 'How is she that is in the religion of Rabi'ah al-Ra'i?' The Imam said, 'No, but marry those who are under the guardianship of their fathers, who are not unbelievers and do not know what you believe in.' I asked, 'Is it not the case that she is either a believer or an unbeliever?' The Imam said, 'One who fasts, performs prayer, is pious before Allah and does not know what is your cause.' I said, 'Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, 'It is He Who has created you. Among you there are believer and unbelievers,' (64:2) no, by Allah, there is no one in the people who is not a believer or an unbeliever.'

"The narrator has said that abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, then said, 'The words of Allah are truer than your words, O Zurara. Have you not considered the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, ' . . . they have mixed virtuous deeds with sinful ones. Perhaps Allah will forgive them. Allah is All-forgiving and All-merciful.' (9:102) Why has Allah said, "perhaps"?' I said, 'They are either believing people or unbelievers.'

"The narrator has said that the Imam then asked, 'What do you think of the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, 'As for the really weak and oppressed men, women, and children who were not able to find any means of obtaining their freedom or of having the right guidance, . . . ' (4:98) guidance to belief?' I said, 'They are either believers or unbelievers.' The Imam said, 'By Allah they are not believing people nor unbelievers.' Then the Imam turned to me and asked, 'What do you think of the people of 'A'raf?' I said, 'They are none other than either believers or unbelievers. If they enter paradise they are believers and if they go in the fire, they are unbelievers.' The Imam said, 'By Allah, they are not believers nor are they unbelievers. Were they believers they would have entered paradise like the other believing people. Were they unbelievers they would have gone in the fire like the other unbelievers. In fact, they are people whose good and bad deeds were equal. They had shortages of deeds. They will be as Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said.' I asked, 'Are they of the people of paradise or of the people of the fire?' The Imam said, 'Leave them alone as Allah

If Allah wills He will send them to paradise through his favor, and if He wills He will drive them to the fire for their sins without being unjust to them.' I said, 'Will unbelievers go to paradise?' The Imam said, 'No.' I asked, 'Will anyone other than unbelievers go in the fire?'

"The narrator has said that the Imam said, 'No, except what Allah will wish. O Zurara, I say, 'What Allah wills and you do not say what Allah wills. When you will grow up you will turn around and your knots ease up (on your opponents).'"

Note: The above Hadith is very critical of the attitude of Zurara, according to commentators. In his defense, due to his prominent position in view of the scholars, it is said that either at that time he was very young or later he matured. He believed those who did not, would not and could not believe in the Divine Authority of 'A'immah could never go to paradise. Also, it is said that perhaps the whole Hadith due to weakness in the chain of narrators is not reliable. Zurara seems unable to find any room in his heart for those who did not respect Ahl al-Bayt, recipient of divine supreme covenant, properly.

Chapter One Hundred Sixty Seven

The Feeble-minded People

H 2877, CH 167, h 1

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from Muhammad ibn 'Isa from Yunus from certain individuals of his people from Zurara who has said the following:

"Once I asked abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about feeble-minded (weak) people. The Imam said, 'They are those who have no means to become unbelievers and cannot find guidance to belief. They are not able to establish belief or to become unbelievers. Of such people are children and those of men and women who are of children's mentality; the pen is held back from writing to hold them responsible.'"

H 2878, CH 167, h 2

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu 'Umayr from Jamil from Zurara from abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"The feeble-minded people are those who are not able to find the means, the guidance or the way. The Imam said, 'They are not able to find the means to belief and they do not disbelieve, like children and those who are of children's mental condition, male and female.'"

A number of our people have narrated from Sahl ibn Ziyad from ibn Mahbub from ibn Ri'ab from Zurara who has said the following:

"Once I asked abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about the feeble-minded people. The Imam said, 'They are those who are not able to defend themselves against disbelief or find the means to the way in the direction of belief. They are not able to have belief and do not disbelieve.' The Imam said, 'Children and those of men and women who are of children's mental condition are among such people.'"

H 2880, CH 167, h 4

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn 'Isa from Ali ibn al-Hakam from 'Abd Allah ibn Jundab from Sufyan ibn al-Samt al-Bajilli who has said the following:

"Once I said to abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, 'What do you say about the feeble-minded people?' The Imam asked me in a manner similar to one frightened, 'Have you left anyone to be considered feeble? By Allah, girls behind the curtains have heard about your cause (Divine Authority of Ahl al-Bayt) and water carriers in the street of Madina speak about it.'"

The Imam said, 'Religion is vast but the Khawarij (those who turned against Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant) group has narrowed it down upon themselves due to their ignorance.' I asked, 'May Allah keep my soul in service for your cause, can I tell you what kind of religion I believe in?' The Imam said, 'Yes, you may do so.' I said, 'I testify that no one deserves to be worshipped except Allah and I testify that Muhammad is His servant and messenger. I affirm to whatever he has brought from Allah. I love you (Ahl al-Bayt) and disavow your enemies and those who have suppressed you, kept (unjust) control over you and who have usurped your rights.' The Imam said, 'You are not ignorant of anything. This, by Allah is what we follow.' I asked, 'Is one who does not know this (cause) safe?' The Imam said, 'No, except the feeble-minded people.' I asked, 'Who are they?' The Imam said, 'Your women and children.' Then he said, 'Consider 'Umm 'Ayman. I testify that she is of the people of paradise, but she did not know what you believe.'"

They murdered people like Hamza and Ja'far and similar persons from the believers. “Once, abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, asked me, ‘What do you say about the people of al-‘A’raf?’ I said, ‘They are either believing people or unbelievers. If they will enter paradise they will be believing people, and if they go in fire they will be unbelievers.’ The Imam then said, ‘By Allah, they are not believing people nor are they unbelievers. Had they been of the believers they would have entered paradise like the believers. Were they unbelievers they would have gone in fire like the unbelievers. They, however, are a people whose good and bad deeds are equal. Their deeds fall short and they are as Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said they are.’ I asked, ‘Are they among the people of paradise or of the people of fire?’ The Imam said, ‘Leave them as Allah has done.’ I said, ‘Do you leave them in postponement?’ The Imam said, ‘Yes, just as Allah has done. If He will wish, He will send them in paradise through His favor, and if He will wish He will drive them to fire for their sins; He will not be doing injustice to them.’ I asked, ‘Will unbelievers enter paradise?’ The Imam said, ‘No.’ I said, ‘Will anyone besides unbelievers go to fire?’ The Imam said, ‘No, unless Allah will wish. O Zurara, I say, ‘As Allah wills and you do not say, ‘As Allah wills.’ When you will grow up you will turn back and your knots ease up (on your opponent).’”

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from Ali ibn al-Hakam from Mansur ibn Yunus from Sulayman ibn Khalid from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
"People of Damascus are more evil than the people of Rome, who are more evil than the people of Madina, who are more evil than the people of Makka, who disbelieve Allah openly."
Note: This Hadith, according to al-Majlisi, perhaps dates from the period of the rule of Amawides, when there were many hypocrites in those cities.

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from Ali ibn al-Hakam from Musa ibn Bakr and Ali ibn Ibrahim from Muhammad ibn 'Isa from Yunus from a man all from Zurara from abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
"Al-Mu'allafah Qulubuhum (people with inclined hearts to Islam) were a people who had accepted Allah only and had given up the worship of things besides Allah. However, true knowledge and belief that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah had not entered their hearts. The Messenger of Allah showed them kindness, provided them knowledge, so they might know the truth and he would teach them.”

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu ‘Umayr from ‘Umar ibn ‘Udhaynah from Zurara who has said the following:

“Once I asked abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, ‘Al-Mu’allafah Qulubuhum (the people with inclined hearts)’ (9:60) the Imam said, ‘They were a people who accepted Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, only, stopped worshipping things that were worshipped besides Allah, they had testified that no one deserves to be worshipped except Allah and that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah and in that condition they had doubts about certain issue(s) that Muhammad, recipient of divine supreme covenant, had brought. Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, commanded His Holy Prophet to attract them with financial means and gifts so that their Islam may improve and they remain steadfast in their religion which they had just accepted and professed.’

“On the day of Hunayn (a battle field) the Messenger of Allah had a meeting with leaders of Arabs from Quraysh, and others from the tribe of Mudar. Among such people were abu Sufyan ibn Harb, ‘Uyaynah ibn Hasin al-Farazi and other such people. The Ansar, people of Madina, became angry and gathered around Sa'd ibn ‘Ubadah. He went with them to see the Messenger of Allah at al-Ja’ranah. He asked, ‘O Messenger of Allah, can I speak?’ He said, ‘Yes, you may speak.’ He said, ‘If the case of these goods that you have distributed among your tribesmen is something that has come from Allah, we agree, and if it is something else, we do not agree.’ Zurara has said, ‘I heard abu Ja’far saying, “The Messenger of Allah asked, ‘O people of Ansar, are all of you of the opinion of your master Sa’d?’” They said, ‘Our master is Allah and the Messenger of Allah.’ Then they said at the third time, ‘We are of the same opinion and words.’ Zurara has said, ‘I heard abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, “For this reason Allah decreased the light of their belief and assigned a share for people of inclined hearts in the Holy Quran.”’

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu 'Umayr from Jamil who has said the following:
"Al-Tayyar would say to me that Satan is not among the angels. Only angels were commanded to bow down in prostration before Adam and Satan said, 'I will not bow down in prostration.' Why should Satan be called disobedient for not bowing down in prostration when he is not among the angels? The narrator has said that he and I went in the presence of abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant. He, by Allah, presented his question very nicely saying, 'May Allah keep my soul in service for your cause, please consider Allah's, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, calling the believers, "O believing people," are hypocrites also addressed along with the believers?' The Imam said, 'Yes, also the straying people and all who had affirmed the public call to Islam. Satan was included in the public call with them (the angles).'"

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu 'Umayr from 'Umar ibn 'Udhaynah from al-Fudayl and Zurara who has said the following:
"Once I (Zurara) asked abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, 'Certain people worship Allah to achieve worldly gains. They are confident when they are prosperous, but when they face hardships they turn away from (worship). They are lost in this life and will be lost in the life to come. Such loss is indeed destructive.' (22:11)
"The Imam said, 'These were people who worshipped Allah and gave up the worship of things worshipped besides Allah. They, however, had doubt in Muhammad, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and what he had brought from Allah. They spoke of Islam and testified that no one deserves to be worshipped except Allah, that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah and affirmed the Holy Quran. Despite this they would doubt Muhammad, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and what he had brought from Allah. They did not have doubt in Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy. 'Certain people worship Allah with deviation,' (22:11) refers to their doubt in Muhammad, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and what he had brought from Allah. 'When they are prosperous,' refers to well being in their health, properties and children. ‘He is confident’, he is happy, ‘When afflictions befall him,’ refers to misfortune in his body or property that he considers as an unfortunate omen and dislikes keeping up with his testimony about the truthfulness of the Holy Prophet; thus, he returns to hesitation and doubt. He becomes hostile toward Allah and the Messenger of Allah, rejects the Holy Prophet and whatever he has brought from Allah.’”

H 2906, CH 172a, h 2

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from Ali ibn al-Hakam from Musa ibn Bakr from Zurara who has said the following:

“Once I asked abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, ‘Certain people worship Allah for worldly gains.’ (22:11) The Imam said, ‘They were a people who accepted Allah only, gave up the worship of things worshipped besides Allah; thus they came out of paganism and did not know that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah. Therefore they worshipped Allah with doubts in Muhammad and what he had brought from Allah. They would come to the Messenger of Allah and say (to each other), ‘We will see if our properties increase, we and our children enjoy good health then we will believe that he is the Messenger of Allah; otherwise, we will think.’

“Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, ‘When they receive good things they enjoy confidence in it, . . .’ [worldly well being], ‘ . . . when they suffer hardships . . .’ [misfortune in his life and property], ‘ . . . he turns backwards,’ [in doubt to paganism, thus] ‘. . . they suffer loses in this world and in the next life, an obvious loss. They call for help from things other than Allah that do not harm or benefit them.’ (22:12) The Imam said, ‘He turns to paganism and calls for help from things other than Allah and worships things besides Allah. There are those of them who learn true knowledge and belief enters their heart. They become believers. They acknowledge the truth and move from their doubtful position to belief. There are those of them who remain in doubt and still others of them return to paganism.’”

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from Muhammad ibn ‘Isa from Yunus from a man from Zurara a similar Hadith.

“Once a man came to Amir al-Mu’minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and asked him, ‘What is the least of that with which a servant (of Allah) becomes a believer, or an unbeliever or a straying person?’ I heard the Imam say, ‘You asked the question, now try to understand the answer. The least of that with which one may be considered a believer is that Allah, the Most Blessed, the Most High, makes him know His Ownself, then he professes to obey Him. He (Allah) makes him know His Holy Prophet, then he professes to obey him and He makes him know His Imam, His Authority on His earth and His witness over His creatures, then he professes to obey him.’

The least of that with which a servant (of Allah) becomes an unbeliever is that when upon a mere guess one says that this is what Allah has commanded and this is what Allah has prohibited. The Most Subtle and Most Expert, (Allah) has informed me that these two will never separate from each other until they will arrive before me at the pond in paradise like this - he joined his index finger and thumb - not like this - he joined his middle finger and thumb so that one may proceed before the other. Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from al-Qasim ibn Muhammad from al-Minqari from Sufyan ibn 'Uyayna from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"The Amawides provided people with studies of Islamic belief in generalized manner but did not allow people to study paganism, so that when they might impose it (paganism and evil deed) upon people they (people) would not consider it evil; (the Amawides preached predestination to cover up their own evil deeds)."

Establishment of Belief and its Abolishment by Allah

H 2909, CH 175, h 1

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn 'Isa from al-Hassan ibn Mahbub from Husayn ibn Nu'aym al-Sahhaf who has said the following:

"Once I asked abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, 'Why is it that a man is a believer before Allah and belief is established for him, then Allah transfers him from belief to disbelief?' The narrator has said that the Imam said, 'Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, is just. He has called the servants to believe in Him, not to disbelief and does not call anyone to disbelieve Him. Whoever believes in Allah and belief is then established for him before Allah, Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, does not transfer him thereafter from belief to disbelief.' I said, 'If a man is an unbeliever whose disbelief is established before Allah, will He transfer him from disbelief to belief?' The Imam said, 'Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has created people - all of them - with the nature upon which He has fashioned them. They do not know belief in a way of life and a system of laws (is necessary) or that disbelief is denial (of something). Allah sent the Messengers who called people to believe in Him. Certain people are those whom Allah has guided (to the right path) and also among them are those whom He has not guided (to the right path).'"

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn 'Isa from Ali ibn al-Hakam from abu Ayyub from Muhammad ibn Muslim who has said the following:
"I heard either of the two Imams, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, 'Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has created a creature for belief and there is no transition in it. He has created a creature for disbelief and there is no transition in it. He has created a creature in between. He has deposited belief in certain individuals among them. If He wills to complete it for them He does so for them, and if He wishes to remove it from them He does so and so and so was of transient (belief) among them.'" Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from al-Husayn ibn Sa'id from Fadalah ibn Ayyub and al-Qasim ibn Muhammad al-Jawhari from Kulayb ibn Mu'awiyah al-Asadi from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
"Abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, 'A servant (of Allah) may live in the morning as a believer and in the evening as an unbeliever. One may live in the morning as an unbeliever and in the evening as a believer. A people borrow belief then it is removed from them and they are called people with transient (belief).' Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu 'Umayr from Hafs ibn al-Bakhtari and others from 'Isa Shalqan who has said the following:
"Once I was sitting when abu al-Hassan Musa, recipient of divine supreme covenant, passed by and with him was a goat. I (the narrator) asked him, 'O young man, do you know what your father does? He commands us to do something and then he prohibits us to do the same thing. He commanded us to be friends with abu al-Khattab and then he commanded us to condemn and disown him.' Abu al-Hassan, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said, and he was only a young boy, 'Allah has created a creature for belief that does not vanish. ١ - عَلِيُّ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنِ ابْنِ أَبِي عُمَيْرٍ عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ عُثْمَانَ عَنْ سَمَاعَةَ عَنْ أَبِي بَصِيرٍ وَ غَيْرِهِ قَالَ قَالَ أَبُو عَبْدِ اللهِ ع إِنَّ الْقَلْبَ لَيَكُونُ السَّاعَةَ مِنَ اللَّيْلِ وَ النَّهَارِ مَا فِيهِ كُفْرٌ وَ لَا إِيمَانٌ كَالثَّوْبِ الْخَلَقِ قَالَ ثُمَّ قَالَ لِي أَ مَا

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu ‘Umayr from Ja’far ibn ‘Uthman from Sama'a from abu Basir and others who has said the following:
“Abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, ‘The heart in certain hours of the night and day has no disbelief or belief in it and it is like an old rug.’ The narrator has said that the Imam then asked, ‘Do you not find that in yourself?

Then there is a dot from Allah in the heart of the kind that He wills in the form of disbelief or belief.’”

A number of our people have narrated from Sahl ibn Ziyad from Muhammad ibn al-Husayn from Muhammad ibn abu ‘Umayr a similar Hadith.

تَجِدُ ذَلِكَ مِنْ نَفْسِكَ قَالَ ثُم تَكُونُ النكْتَةُ مِنَ اللهِ فِي الْقَلْبِ بِمَا شَاءَ مِنْ كُفْرٍ وَ إِيمَانٍ

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn ‘Isa from al-‘Abbas ibn Ma’ruf from Hammad ibn ‘Isa from al-Husayn ibn al-Mukhtar from abu Basir who has said the following:

“I heard abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, ‘There is the heart in which there is no belief or disbelief, like a chunk of flesh. Does any one of you feel it is as such sometimes?’”

H 2918, CH 178, h 3

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from al-‘Amraki ibn Ali from Ali ibn Ja’far from abu al-Hassan Musa, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“Allah has created the hearts of the believers, in which belief is wrapped up and is unknown. When He wills to light up what is in it He sprinkles it with wisdom and plants knowledge therein. The farmer and guardian thereof is the Lord, the Cherisher of the worlds.”

٣- مُحَمدُ بْنُ يَحْيَى عَنِ الْعَمْرَكِيِّ بْنِ عَلِي عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ جَعْفَرٍ عَنْ أَخِيهِ الْحَسَنِ مُوسَى ع قَالَ إِن اللهَ خَلَقَ قُلُوبَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ مَطْوِيةً مُبْهَمَةً عَلَى الْإِيمَانِ فَإِذَا أَرَادَ اسْتِنَارَةَ مَا فِيهَا نَضَحَهَا بِالْحِكْمَةِ وَ زَرَعَهَا بِالْعِلْمِ وَ زَارِعُهَا وَ الْقَيمُ عَلَيْهَا رَب الْعَالَمِينَ

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from Muhammad ibn Sinan from al-Husayn ibn al-Mukhtar from abu Basir from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“The heart vibrates between the chest and the throat until it forms belief, when it does so it rests as is in the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, ‘Whoever believes in Allah his heart calms down.’” (64:11)

٤- مُحَمدُ بْنُ يَحْيَى عَنْ أَحْمَدَ بْنِ مُحَمدٍ عَنْ مُحَمدِ بْنِ سِنَانٍ عَنِ الْحُسَيْنِ بْنِ الْمُخْتَارِ عَنْ أَبِي بَصِيرٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللهِ ع قَالَ إِن الْقَلْبَ لَيتَرَجرَجُ فِيمَا بَيْنَ الصدْرِ وَ الْحَنْجَرَةِ حَتى يُعْقَدَ عَلَى الْإِيمَانِ فَإِذَا عُقِدَ عَلَى الْإِيمَانِ قَر وَ ذَلِكَ قَوْلُ اللهِ عَز وَ جَل وَ مَنْ يُؤْمِنْ بِاللهِ يَهْدِ قَلْبَهُ

A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Khalid from ibn Faddal from abu Jamilah from Muhammad al-Halabi from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“The heart beats noisily inside in search of the truth. If it finds the truth it calms down and rests.’ The Imam then recited this verse: ‘Allah will open the hearts of whomever He wants to guide to Islam, but He will tighten the chest of one whom He has led astray, as though he were climbing high up into the sky. Thus, God places wickedness on those who do not accept the faith. (6:125)’”

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from Muhammad ibn ‘Isa from Yunus from abu al-Maghra’ from abu Basir who has said the following:

“I heard abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, ‘The heart in (certain) hours of the night and day has no belief or disbelief in it. Do you not find that in yourself? Thereafter, a dot from Allah comes in the heart of His servant in the form that He wills. If He wills, it is with belief and if He wills, it is in disbelief.’”

“One day the Imam said to us, ‘You may find a man who does not make any mistakes of the size of letter ‘L’ or ‘W’ and he is an exuberant speaker while his heart is darker than the darkest night. A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Khalid from his father from Harun ibn al-Jahm from al-Mufaddal from Sa'd from abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
“There are four kinds of hearts: the heart in which there is hypocrisy and belief, the heart that is upside down, the heart that is stamped and the heart that is Azhar and is free. I then asked, ‘What is ‘Azhar’? The Imam said, ‘In it (the heart) there is something like a lamp. The stamped heart is the heart of hypocrite. Azhar is the heart of the believer who upon receiving favors, thanks, and in suffering exercises patience. The upside down heart is the heart of the pagans.’ The Imam then read this verse: ‘Can one who walks with his head hanging down be better guided than one who walks with his head upright?’ (67:22) The heart with belief and hypocrisy therein was the heart of a people in Ta’if. If death seized one of them upon his hypocrisy, he perished, and if it approached him upon belief he gained salvation.’”

A number of our people have narrated from Sahl ibn Ziyad from ibn Mahbub from abu Hamza al-Thumali from abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
“Hearts are of three kinds: an upside down heart that holds nothing good is the heart of an unbeliever. The heart in which there is a black dot, thus, good and evil duel therein. Whichever dominates the heart defeats the other. There is the open heart. In it lamps shine and its light does not extinguish until the Day of Judgment and that is the heart of a believer.’”

About the Darkness of the Heart of the Hypocrite Even Though He Has a Tongue and the Light of the Heart of the Believer Even Though His Tongue May Fall Short

Chapter One Hundred Eighty
The Changing Conditions of the Heart

H 2926, CH 180, h 1
Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father and a number of our people have narrated from Sahl ibn Ziyad and Muhammad ibn Yahya from Ahmad ibn Muhammad all from ibn Mahbub from Muhammad ibn al-Nu’man al-‘Ahwal from Sallam ibn al-Mustanir who has said the following:
“Once I was in the presence of abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, when Humran ibn ‘A’yan came in and asked him a few things. When Humran wanted to stand up and leave he said to abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, ‘I like to tell you, may Allah grant you long life for us so we benefit from you more, whenever we come to you and then leave our hearts feel affectionate, we forget ourselves in the world, and what is in the hands of people of belongings seem to us insignificant. When we leave you and meet others and business people we begin to love the world.' Abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said, 'The hearts sometimes harden and at other times soften.'

"Abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, then said, 'The companions of Muhammad, recipient of divine supreme covenant, had said, 'O Messenger of Allah, we are afraid of hypocrisy.' The Imam said that the Messenger of Allah then asked, 'Why are you afraid of it?' They said, 'When we are in your presence, you remind us (of our religion), encourage us to good deeds, we feel fear, forget the world and restrain ourselves from it, as if we observe the next life, paradise and fire while we are in your presence. When we leave your presence, go to these houses, sense the smell of the children and see the family and relatives, our condition that we had in your presence changes. It is as if we are on nothing (of belief or religion). Do you fear that is hypocrisy in us?' The Messenger of Allah said, 'Beware; this is among the steps of Satan who encourages you to be interested in the world. By Allah, if you continue in such condition that you described to exist in you, the angels shake hands with you and you can walk over the water. Even if you do not commit any sin and do not need to ask Allah's forgiveness, Allah will create a creature who will sin then ask Him for forgiveness and He will forgive them. Believing people are under trial and they repent. Have you not heard the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, 'Allah loves those who repent and those who cleanse themselves,' (2:222) also He has said, 'Ask your Lord for forgiveness and turn to Him in repentance.'" (11:3)

Chapter One Hundred Eighty One

Temptation and Soul's Tale Telling

H 2927, CH 181, h 1

Al-Husayn ibn Muhammad has narrated from Mu'alla ibn Muhammad from al-Washsha' from Muhammad ibn Humran who has said the following:

"Once I asked abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, 'What if temptation (soul's tale telling) becomes a great deal.' The Imam said, 'There is nothing in it. Say, 'No one deserves to be worshipped except Allah.'"

H 2928, CH 181, h 2

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu 'Umayr from Jamil ibn Darraj who has said the following:

"Once I asked abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, 'A great thing happens in my heart.' The Imam told me to say, 'No one deserves to be worshipped except Allah.' Jamil has said, 'Whenever anything happens in my heart I say, 'No one deserves to be worshipped except Allah,' and it goes away.'"

H 2929, CH 181, h 3

Ibn abu 'Umayr has narrated from Muhammad ibn Muslim from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"Once a man came to the Holy Prophet and said, 'O Messenger of Allah, I am destroyed,' and the Messenger of Allah said, 'Has the filthy one come to you and asked you, "Who has created you?" and you said, 'Allah has created me,' and he said, "Who has created Allah?" The man said, 'Yes, by the One Who has sent you with the truth, it was just as you said.' The Messenger of Allah said, 'That by Allah is pure belief.'

“A man wrote to abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and complained about what would pass in his mind. The Imam answered him in certain parts of his words: ‘If Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, wills, He will keep you steadfast and He will not allow Satan to find way in you. Certain people complained to the Holy Prophet for what happened in their mind so much so that they liked to be blown away by the wind or being cut in pieces than to speak out of that thing in their mind. The Messenger of Allah asked, ‘Do you find that?’ They said, ‘Yes we do.’ The Messenger of Allah said, ‘By the One in whose hands is my soul that it is clear belief. Whenever you sense it say, “We believe in Allah and His Messenger and there is no means and power without Allah.’”

I think the present enemy has come to you asking, “Who has created you?” You said, ‘Allah has created me,’ and he asked, “Who has created Allah?” The man said, ‘Yes, by the One Who has sent you with the truth, it was just like that.’ The Messenger of Allah said, ‘Satan comes to you through the deeds and fails to overpower you. Then he comes to you from this aspect to make you slip, if this happens you must speak of Allah alone (and say, ‘No one deserves to be worshipped except Allah).’”

"Once I asked him, recipient of divine supreme covenant, if the two angels know the sin or good deed that a servant (of Allah) may intend to perform. The Imam said, 'Are the smell of a trash collection site and a sweet smelling substance the same?' I said, 'No, they are not the same.' The Imam said, 'Whenever a servant (of Allah) intends to perform a good deed his breath comes out with a good smell and the angel on the right side says to the one on the left side, 'Stand up; he intends to perform a good deed.' When he performs it his tongue serves as his pen and his saliva as ink and he writes it down for him. Whenever he intends to commit an evil deed his breath comes out with a foul smell. The angel on the left says to the one on the right, 'Stop; he intends to commit an evil deed.' For an evil act his tongue serves as the pen and his saliva as ink and he writes it down against him.'"

(3) One may intend to commit an evil deed and if he does not do it nothing will be written against him, however, (4) if he does commit such act he will be given seven hours. The angel for the good deeds will say to the one for the evil deeds who is on the left side, 'Do not hurry, perhaps he may perform a good deed that will cancel the evil deed as Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, says, 'The good deeds remove the bad deeds,' (11:115) if he may say, 'I ask forgiveness from Allah, besides whom no one deserves to be worshipped. He knows the unseen and the manifest, He is the most majestic, the most wise, the forgiving, the merciful, glorious and honorable and I turn in repentance to Him,' nothing will be written against him. If seven hours pass, and he performs no good deed or repentance the angel for the good deeds will say to the one for the evil deeds, 'Write it down against the wicked and deprived one that he is.'"

"I heard abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, 'When a servant (of Allah) repents in the form of the repentance of Nasuh (sincere advise to one's soul, or name of a person who repented in the real sense), Allah then loves him, covers and protects him in this world and in the next life.' I then asked, 'How will He cover him?' The Imam said, 'He will make the two angels forget what they have written against him. He will inspire the parts of his body to hide his sins and the places of earth to hide the sins that he had committed thereat. Allah will meet him while there will be nothing to testify anything against him.'"

"Once I asked abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, 'Believers, turn to Allah in repentance, in a Nasuh manner, with the intention of never repeating the same sin.' (66:8) The Imam said, 'It means a servant (of Allah) repents from sins and never repeats them.'
"Muhammad ibn al-Fudayl has said, 'I asked abu al-Hassan, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about it (repentance in a Nasuh manner) he said, 'One repents from sin and then does not repeat it. Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu 'Umayr from certain individuals of our people in a marfu' manner from the Imam, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
"Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has given three things to the repenting people. Had any of it been given to all of those in the heavens and on earth, all have had their salvation. The following words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, mention those three things: 'Allah loves those who 'Repent' and those who cleanse themselves, (2:222) whomever Allah loves He will not punish him.' 'The bearers of the Throne glorify their Lord with His praise. They believe in Him and ask Him to forgive the believers. They say, "Our Lord, Your mercy and knowledge encompass all things. Forgive those who turn to You in 'Repentance' and follow Your path. Lord, save them from the torment of hell. (40:7) Lord, admit them and their fathers, spouses, and offspring who have reformed themselves to the gardens of Eden which You have promised them. You are Majestic and All-wise. (40:8)
"Lord, keep them away from evil deeds. Whomever You have saved from evil on the Day of Judgment has certainly been granted Your mercy and this is the greatest triumph.' (40:9)
"The last thing is in the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, ' . . . who do not worship idols besides Allah, nor without a just cause murder a soul whom Allah has granted protection, who do not commit fornication; those who do so have committed a sin (25:68) and on the Day of Judgment their torment will be double. They will suffer forever in disgrace. (25:69) But only those who 'Repent' believe and act righteously will have their sins replaced with virtue; Allah is All-forgiving and All-merciful.'" (25:70)

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from ibn Mahbub from al-'Ala' from Muhammad ibn Muslim from abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:
"Once abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said, 'O Muhammad ibn Muslim, if believing people repent for their sins they will be forgiven. Believing people must resume their good deeds after repentance and forgiveness. By Allah, this is only for the believers.' I then asked, 'What if he goes back to sin after repenting and asking for forgiveness and repents again?' The Imam said, 'O Muhammad ibn Muslim, do you think a believing servant (of Allah) regrets his sins, asks forgiveness and repents but Allah does not accept his repentance?' I said, 'He, however, has done it many times. He sins, repents and asks forgiveness (from Allah).' The Imam said, 'Whenever a believing servant (of Allah) returns back for repentance and pleas for forgiveness, Allah returns to him with forgiveness; Allah is forgiving and merciful. He accepts repentance and effaces the evil deeds. You must never cause a believer to lose hope in the favor and mercy of Allah.'"

"When a believing servant (of Allah) commits a sin Allah gives him seven hours respite. If he pleads for forgiveness from Allah within such time nothing will be written against him. If the hours pass and he did not plead for forgiveness one sin will be written against him. A believer remembers his sin even after twenty years so that he may plead to his Lord for forgiveness and He forgives him. An unbeliever forgets his sin within the same hour.'"

I then said, 'The Messenger of Allah would yatub (repent) and would not repeat, we repent and repeat.' The Imam said, 'Allah is the source of help.'"

"Adam said, 'O Lord, you have made Satan dominate me and made him flow in me like blood, so make something for me also.' The Lord said, 'O Adam, for your benefit I have given your offspring the advantage of not writing down against them any sin if they only intend to commit an evil deed. If they actually commit an evil deed only one evil deed is written against them. If anyone of them intends to perform a good deed one good deed is written down for him even if he did not perform it. If, however, he actually performs it ten good deeds are written for him.' Adam said, 'O Lord, increase favors upon me.' The Lord said, 'I have also assigned for your benefit that if anyone of your offspring commits a sin and then pleads before Me for forgiveness I forgive him.' Adam said, 'Lord, grant me more favors.' The Lord said, 'I, for their advantage, have made repentance available to them' or he (the Imam) said that the Lord said, 'I have extended the time for repentance in their favor up to the time the soul reaches this (throat).' Adam then said, 'Lord, this is sufficient for me.'"

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn 'Isa from Muhammad ibn Sinan from Mu'awiyah ibn Wahab who has said the following:
"Once we left for Makka and with us there was an old man, very religious and worshipping but did not know this cause (Shi'a Muslim belief). He would pray full (not in reduced form) on a journey and with him there was the son of his brother, also a Muslim. The old man became ill and I said to the son of his brother, 'If you introduce this cause to your uncle perhaps Allah may grant him freedom.' All of them said, 'Leave the old man alone to die in his condition; he looks just fine.' The son of his brother did not wait and said, 'Uncle, people after the Messenger of Allah proselytized (gave up their religion) except a very few people. Ali ibn abu Talib must have been obeyed just like the Messenger of Allah had been obeyed. After the Messenger of Allah it was the right of Ali to be obeyed.'
"The narrator has said that the old man sighed deeply and said, 'I am upon this (belief),' and he died. We then went in the presence of abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and Ali ibn al-Sariy narrated the story before abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and he said, 'He was a man of paradise.' Ali ibn al-Sariy said, 'He had no knowledge of this cause except for one Sa'ah there.' The Imam said, 'What else do you want from him. He, by Allah, has entered paradise.'"

Chapter One Hundred Eighty Nine
Sins Are of Three Kinds

بَابٌ فِي أَن الذُنوبَ ثَلاثَةٌ

H 2979, CH 189, h 1
Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ‘Abd al-Rahman ibn Hammad from certain individuals of his people in a marfu’ manner who has said the following:
“Once Amir al-Mu’minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, climbed the Minbar (pulpit) in al-Kufah, praised Allah and spoke of His glory and then said, ‘O people sins are of three kinds’ and he remained quiet. Habbah al-‘Arani, said, ‘O Amir al-Mu’minin, you just said, “Sins are of three kinds, and then remained silent.’ The Imam said, ‘Yes, I mentioned them and wanted to explain and interpret them but a breathing problem prevented me from speaking. Yes, sins are of three kinds: A sin that is forgiven, a sin that is not forgiven and a sin for whose owner we have hopes and fears.’ The man said, ‘O Amir al-Mu’minin, explain them for us.’
“The Imam said, ‘Yes, the sin that is forgiven is one for which Allah has punished the sinner in this world and He is by far much Forbearing and Honorable to punish His servant twice.
“The sin that is not forgiven is people’s injustice to each other (in the matters of property and so forth). When Allah, the Most Blessed, the Most High, will manifest himself to His creatures, He will swear by His Ownself saying, ‘By My Majesty and Glory that the injustice of the unjust cannot bypass Me, even though it is in the form of a slap for a slap, a rubbing for a slap, or blow by those having horns to those without horns.’ He will retaliate for His servants from the others until no one will be left without receiving justice and thereafter they will be sent for reckoning.
“The third kind of sin is the sin that Allah has covered for His servants and has granted them repentance. He lives in fear because of his sin with hopes in his Lord. We toward him are just as he is to himself. We wish he will be granted mercy and fear for his suffering punishment.’”

If He does not do this He causes him to become needy, if He does not do this He causes death to become very difficult for him to compensate from him for the sin.’

The birds had scattered it and dogs had chewed it up. Then he came to a city where the chief had passed away. His body laid in state covered with the most beautiful cloths with a huge crowed around it. He prayed to Allah saying, 'O Lord, I testify that you make just decisions, and do not do injustice. That servant of Your's never considered anything as your partner, even for a blinking of an eye, and You caused him to die that kind of death. This servant of You has not believed in You, even for a blinking of an eye, and You have caused him to die this kind of death.' Allah said, 'My servant, I am as you said I am. I make decisions with justice and do not do

Abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said, 'O you, for truth there is a kingdom and for falsehood there is a kingdom. Each of them is humiliated in the kingdom of the other. The least that a believer may suffer in the kingdom of falsehood is the failure of his children to maintain good relations with parents, and injustice from his brothers. Any believer who may receive comfort in the kingdom of falsehood, for this he faces suffering before his death, either in his physical health, his children or his property until Allah purifies him from what he has received in the kingdom of falsehood and will expand his share in the kingdom of truth. Exercise patience and be happy.'"

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn 'Isa from al-Hassan ibn Mahbub from 'Abd al-'Aziz al-'Abdi from ibn abu Ya'fur who has said the following:
"I heard abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, 'Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, "A servant among My believing servants commits a great sin that will make him subject to My punishment in this world and in the next life. I then see what is best for him in his next life. I then like to speed up punishment for him in this world to get even for that sin. I determine the punishment for that sin and make a decision about it. I then keep it on hold without executing and, in its execution I have a wish, and My servant does not know about it. I then hesitate many times in its execution. I then keep it on hold and do not execute; I dislike making him suffer and avoid sending affliction upon him. I then grant him forgiveness and ignore (his sin) because of love for his offsetting the sin through his many optional prayers at nights, as well as during the day, with which he tries to get closer to Me. I then divert the misfortune from him even though I had already determined, decided and had kept it on hold and for its execution I had a wish. I then write for him a great reward for the 'Would be coming misfortune' upon him. I preserve it for him, make his reward available and he does not realize it. No trouble or misfortune reaches him. I am Allah, the Honorable, the Compassionate, the Merciful.'"

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn 'Isa from Ali ibn al-Hakam from certain individuals of his people from al-'Abbas al-Baqbaq who has said the following:
"Abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, 'Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, "Avoiding sin is easier than pleading for forgiveness. How many are the cases of very short period of lustful activities that cause prolonged sadness. Death disgraces the world (uncovers its worthlessness) and it has not left any happiness for the people of proper understanding.'"

Gradual Progress

بَابُ الِاسْتِدْرَاجِ

H 3002, CH 196, h 1
A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from Ali ibn al-Hakam from ‘Abd Allah ibn Jundab from Sufyan ibn al-Samt who has said the following:
“Abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, ‘When Allah wills good for a servant upon his committing a sin He causes it to be followed by a misfortune to remind him of the need to plead for forgiveness. When Allah wills evil for a servant upon his committing a sin He causes it to be followed by his gaining bounties that make him forget the need to plead for forgiveness and continue in sin. This is indicated in the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, ‘We gradually lead those who have called Our revelations mere lies, to destruction. Their destruction will be such that they will not even notice how it seized them.’ (7:182) This happens to them by means of His granting them bounties when they commit sins.’”

Despite this, about tomorrow you are not certain of reaching it and whether you will perform any good deeds in it or avoid committing evil deeds that deletes the good deeds. Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said, 'O seeker of advice, listen carefully, understand, ascertain and practice. You must know that people are of three kinds: restraining themselves from worldly matters, exercising patience and those who are inclined toward worldly gains.
"From the hearts of restraining people sadness and happiness have moved out. He does not become happy for any of the worldly things, nor he is grieved over anything of the world that he may have missed, thus, he is comfortable.
"The person who exercises patience has hopes to have worldly gains in his heart and when he gains anything he holds his soul back from it due to such gains' bad consequences and disgrace. Were you to see his heart you would be astonished by its chastity, humility and determination.
"To those who are inclined to worldly gains it does not matter wherefrom worldly gains come to them, lawful or unlawful as well as whether it throws filth over their honor or destroys their souls, or takes away their kindness. They are restless in a vortex.'"

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father and Ali ibn Muhammad al-Qasani have all narrated from al-Qasim ibn Muhammad from Sulayman al-Minqari from Hafs ibn Ghiyath who has said the following:
"Once I heard abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, 'If you can remain unknown, then do so. There will be nothing wrong if people will not praise you. There is nothing wrong for you if people censure you if you are praiseworthy before Allah.' The Imam said, 'My father Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, "There is nothing good in life except for two kinds of people: a man who every day increases his good deeds and a man who every day remedies a destructive deed with repentance. How can repentance be of any benefit for him? By Allah, if he would perform a Sajdah prostration for such a length of time that his neck severs off of his body still, Allah, the Most Blessed, the Most High, will not accept his repentance without his acknowledgement of the Wilayah (Divine Authority) of our Ahl al-Bayt (family of Holy Prophet). You must know that whoever recognizes our rights can have hope for rewards because of us. He agrees, for his survival, to half of a one time meal every day, and with that which provides him covering for his privacy, his or her head, and with it, by Allah, they live in fear and apprehension and love to agree with this much as their share from the world and this is how Allah, the Majestic, the Glorious, has described them, '. . . who bring what is brought to them and whose hearts are afraid of their return to their Lord.' (23:60) What do they bring? They, by Allah, will bring along with obedience, love and (acknowledgement of) the guardianship (of Allah and Ahl al-Bayt (family of Holy Prophet) and they still will be afraid. Such fear is not due to doubts, but it is due to their fear of falling short in our love and obedience."""

“Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, ‘Those who consider themselves above the need to worship Me will soon go to hell in disgrace.’ (40:60)

“The Imam said, ‘This is a reference to prayer. The best form of worship is prayer (pleading before Allah for help).’ I (the narrator) then asked, ‘What is meant by: Ibrahim is la awwahu, prayerful and forbearing?’ The Imam said, ‘It means pleading for help before Allah.’”

Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, hates no one more than one who feels himself greater than to be in need of asking Allah for help, thus, he does not ask Him for help.’”

There is a position with Allah, the Majestic, the Glorious, that is not accessible without praying to Him. If a servant keeps his mouth closed and does not plead to receive help, he will not receive anything. The words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, 'glorify the name of your Lord, with due sincerity (al-Tabattul),' (73:8) 'refers to hand gestures made in prayer with one finger. Al-Tadarru' is pointing and gesturing with two fingers, 'Ibtihal is raising both hands and stretching them up high when one's eyes tear up. It then is the time you should pray.'"

He then turned the back of his hands upward to the sky and said, ''This way is al-Rahbah (expressing anxiety). He moved his fingers right and left and said that such is al-Tadarru'. He then raised his fingers and then lower them saying that such is al-Tabattul. He then stretched his hands in front of his face toward the Ka'bah saying that such is al-'Ibtihal only when tears flow.'"

The man said, 'O 'Abd Allah, (servant of Allah) pray with your right hand raised.' I then said, 'O servant of Allah, Allah, the Most Blessed, the Most High's rights apply to this hand just as they do to that hand.'

"The Imam said, al-Raghbah is raising your hands with palms upward, al-Rahbah is stretching your hands with their backs upward, al-Tadarru' is moving the index finger of your right hand right and left, al-Tabattul is moving the index finger of your left hand, raise it up and bring it down, al-'Ibtihal is stretching your hands and arms to the sky and it is only when you see reasons for weeping."

Weeping

H 3113, CH 15, h 1
Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu ‘Umayr from Mansur ibn Yunus from Muhammad ibn Marwan from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“For everything there is weighing and measuring except tears. One drop of tears can extinguish oceans of fire. If the eyes flood with tears the face will not suffer hardships and humiliation. When tears flow out, Allah makes it forbidden for the fire and if a person weeps in a nation, such nation will receive favors.”

H 3114, CH 15, h 2
A number of our people have narrated from Sahl ibn Ziyad from ibn Faddal from abu Jamilah and Mansur ibn Yunus from Muhammad ibn Marwan from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“Every eye will be weeping on the Day of Judgment except the eye that has wept for fear of Allah. Any eye that is flooded with tears for fear of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, Allah, the Majestic, the Glorious, will make it forbidden for the fire to burn the other parts of his body. Any eye from which tears flow over one’s checks such face will not face any suffering or humiliation. Everything has weighing and measuring tools except tears with a very little of which Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, will extinguish oceans of fire. If a servant (of Allah) weeps in a nation, Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, will grant favor to that nation because of the weeping of that one servant (of Allah).”

It is narrated from him (narrator of the Hadith above) from ‘Abd al-Rahman ibn abu Najran from Muthanna al-Hannat from abu Hamza from abu Ja’far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

H 3116, CH 15, h 4
Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu ‘Umayr from Mansur ibn Yunus from Salih ibn Razin and Muhammad ibn Marwan and others from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

H 3117, CH 15, h 5
Ibn abu ‘Umayr has narrated from Jamil ibn Darraj and Drust from Muhammad ibn Marwan who has said the following:

“I heard abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, ‘everything has weighing and measuring tools except the tears. A drop of tear can extinguish oceans of fire. If the eye floods with tears, that face will not suffer anything or become humiliated. If the eye overflows with tears, Allah makes it forbidden for the fire to burn it and if a person weeps in a nation, that nation will receive favors.’” who has said the following:

"Abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, 'Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, sent revelations to Moses that said, "the most beloved of things to Me with which My servants can seek nearness to Me are three things." Moses then asked, 'Lord, what are they?' The Lord said, 'One's reduced interest in worldly matters, restraint from sins and weeping for fear of Me.' Moses asked, 'Lord, what is then the reward for one who would do so?' Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, sent him revelation that said, 'Moses, people with reduced interest in the world will be in paradise, those weeping for fear of Me will be in a high position with whom no one else will share and those restraining from sins for their reward will have the privilege of freedom from My searching their affairs when I search all other people.'"

قَالَ قَالَ أَبو عَبْدِ اللهِ ع أَوْحى الله عز و جل إِلى موسى ع أَن عِبادِي لَمْ يتقَربوا إِلي بِشيْءٍ أَحب إِلي مِنْ ثَلَاثِ خِصالٍ قَالَ موسى يا رب و ما هن قَالَ يا موسى الزهْد فِي الدنْيا و الْورع عن الْمعاصِي و الْبكَاءُ مِنْ خشْيتي قَالَ موسى يا رب فَما لِمنْ صنع ذَا فَأَوْحى الله عز و جل إِلَيهِ يا موسى أَما الزاهِدونَ فِي الدنْيا فَفِي الْجنةِ و أَما الْبكَاءُونَ مِنْ خشْيتي فَفِي الرفِيعِ الْأَعْلَى لَا يشارِكُهمْ أَحدٌ و أَما الْورِعونَ عَنْ معاصِي فَإِني أُفَتش الناس و لَا أُفَتشهمْ

Abu Ali al-Ash'ari has narrated from Muhammad ibn 'Abd al-Jabbar from Safwan from 'Iys ibn al-Qasim who has said the following:

"Abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, 'Whenever anyone of you wishes to ask for help he should praise his Lord and thank Him. When a man wants to ask a king for something, he prepares to say the best of words that he can.

When you like to ask for help, speak of the Glory of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Compelling, thank Him and praise Him saying, "O the Most Generous in granting favors and the Best to be asked for help. O the Most Kind to those who ask for kindness, O the only One and Self-sufficient. O the One Who has no children and is not born from anyone and there is no one as His partner. O the One Who has no companion and children. O the One Who does as He wishes, commands as He wills and judges as He loves. O the One Who stands between a man and his heart, O the One Who is in a high position, O the One in Whose likeness there is no creature, O the Hearing, and the Seeing." Speak of the names of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy; they are many and ask from Him favors for Muhammad and his family and then say, 'O Lord, extend for me of Your lawful supplies with which I can save my face, return safely what is entrusted with me, maintain good relations with relatives and be helpful in my Hajj and 'Umrah.' The Imam said, 'Once a man came in the Mosque, performed two Rak'at (prayer consisting of twice kneeling) then asked Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, for help and the Messenger of Allah said, 'The servant (of Allah) hastened his Lord.' Then another man came in and prayed two Rak'at then he praised Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, and asked from Him favors for the Holy Prophet and his family and the Messenger of Allah said, 'Ask for help you will receive it.'"

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn 'Isa from Ali ibn al-Hakam from abu Kahmas who has said the following:

"I heard abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, 'Once a man came to the Mosque and he began without praising Allah and asking from Him favors for the Holy Prophet. The Messenger of Allah said, 'The servant (of Allah) hastened his Lord.' Then another man came in and prayed, praised Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, and asked favors from Him for the Messenger of Allah. The Messenger of Allah said, 'Ask for help you will receive it.' Thereafter the Imam said, 'It is in the book of Ali, recipient of divine supreme covenant, "Praising Allah and asking favors from Him for the Messenger of Allah should come before asking for help. When anyone comes to a man to request a favor, he loves to say to him the best words to him before asking for help.'"

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from 'Uthman ibn 'Isa from those whom he has mentioned (in his book) who has said the following:

"Once I said to abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, 'There are two verses in the book of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, that I search for but I do not find them, (their meaning).' The Imam aked, 'What are they?' I said, 'They are the words of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, "Call Me (for help) and I will answer you."' (40:60) We call Him and pray to Him but do not see any answer.' The Imam asked, 'Do you think He, Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, ignores His promise?' I said, 'No, He does not ignore it.' The Imam asked, 'Why is that then?' I said, 'I do not know.' The Imam said, 'I will tell you about it. Whoever obeys Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, in whatever He has commanded and then prays to Him the way prayer should be done He answers them.' I then asked, 'What is the way of prayer?' The Imam said, 'Begin the prayer by praising Allah, recall His bounties with you, thank Him, ask favors from Him for the Holy Prophet,

Delay in the Acceptance of Prayer

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn 'Isa from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn abu Nasr who has said the following:

"Once I said to abu al-Hassan (al-Rida), recipient of divine supreme covenant, 'May Allah keep my soul in service for your cause, I have been praying to Allah for help in something from the year so and so and because of delay something is happing in my heart.' The Imam said, 'O Ahmad, beware of Satan! Do not allow him to find a way in you to despair you. Abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, would say, "A believing person prays and pleads before Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, for help and help is delayed due to love for his voice and listening to his intense weeping."' The Imam then said, 'By Allah, whatever Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, delays for believing people of the help that they may ask in this world is far better for them than helping them quickly. Such a worthless world! Abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, would say, 'It is very proper for a believing person to pray for help in his comfort just like in hardships. He should not grow to be lazy after receiving help to lose interest in prayer.' You should never lose interest in prayer; it is of a very important position before Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy. You should exercise patience and seek to find lawful sustenance, maintain good relations with relatives and should never make it public. We are a family who maintains good relations with those who cut off from us and do favors to those who cause us trouble. In this we find good consequences. If an affluent person in this world prays and asks for favors, his prayer receives acceptance. He may ask for more and the bounties seem insignificant to him. He does not feel satisfied with anything. When bounties are plentiful a Muslim is in a danger of violating the rights he owes and the mischief that may threaten him. Tell me about yourself. If I will say something to you, will you trust me?' I (the narrator) said, 'May Allah keep my soul in service for your cause, if I do not trust you, then whom will I trust? You possess authority from Allah over His creatures.' The Imam said, 'Your trust in Allah must be stronger; you have a covenant with Allah. Has Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, not said, "(Muhammad), if any of My servants ask you about Me, tell them that the Lord says, 'I am near; I accept the prayers of those who pray.' Allow My servants answer My call and believe in Me so that perhaps they may know the right direction.' (2:186) 'Do not despair of the mercy of Allah. Allah certainly forgives all sins. He is All-Forgiving and All-Merciful.' (39:53) 'Allah promises you forgiveness and favors. Allah is Munificent and All-Knowing.' (2:268) You must trust Allah, the Most Majestic,

Chapter Twenty Two
Speaking of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, Very Often

بَابُ ذِكْرِ اللهِ عَز وَ جَل كَثِيراً

H 3181, CH 22, h 1
A number of our people have narrated from Sahl ibn Ziyad from Ja’far ibn Muhammad al-Ash’ari from ibn al-Qaddah from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“Everything has a limit where it ends except speaking of Allah which has no limit to end. Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has sanctioned obligations. When one fulfills them, their limit is where they end. The limit for the month of Ramadan is that when one fasts that is its limit where it ends, and the limit of Hajj is that when one performs Hajj it ends. Al-Dikr (speaking of Allah) is as such that Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, does not agree with a very little of it and He has not set a limit for where it ends.’ The Imam then read this verse of the Holy Quran: ‘Believers, remember Allah very often (33:41) and glorify Him both in the mornings and in the evenings.’ (33:42)

“The Imam said, ‘Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has not set a limit for it where it would end.’ He them said, ‘My father would speak of Allah very often. I would walk with him and he would speak of Allah. At the time I ate food with him he would speak of Allah. Even when speaking to people it would not stop him from speaking of Allah. I could see his tongue move saying, ‘No one deserves to be worshipped except Allah.’ He would gather all of us together and order us to speak of Allah until sunrise. He would command those of us who could read, to read the Holy Quran and those who could not to speak of Allah. The house in which the Holy Quran is read and Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, is spoken of therein blessings increase and angels are present, the devils run away and it shines to the people of heavens just as a diamond (shaped) star shines for the people of earth. The house in which the Holy Quran is not read, Allah is not spoken of therein, blessings in it decrease, angels

The Messenger of Allah said, 'Whoever says al-Takbir of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy. "Allahu Akbar (Allah is greater than can be described)," one hundred times it will be better than setting free one hundred slaves.'

"Whoever says al-Tasbih of Allah, 'Subhana Allah (all glory belongs to Allah),' one hundred times it is better than deriving one hundred camels as a sacrificial offering.

"Whoever says, 'All praise belongs to Allah' one hundred times, it is better than offering one hundred horses, harnessed and readied with a soldier riding to move for the cause of Allah.

"Whoever says, 'No one deserves to be worshipped except Allah,' one hundred times will be the best among people in worshipping that day except for one who does more.

"The Imam then said, 'This reached the wealthy people and they followed the instruction. “I heard abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, ‘The prayer of three kinds of people is not accepted: a man to whom Allah has granted wealth but spends it improperly and then says, “O Lord, grant me wealth,” to him it is said, ‘Did I not give you wealth?’ A man who prays against his unjust wife, and it is said to him, ‘Have I not left her affairs to you (dissolving of marriage lawful)?’ A man who sits idle and prayers, ‘O Lord, grant me sustenance,’ and to him it is said, ‘Have I not made ways how to make a living?’”

Chapter Thirty Three
Prayer Against the Enemy

H 3233, CH 33, h 1
A number of our people have narrated from Sahl ibn Ziyad from Yahya ibn al-Mubarak from ‘Abd Allah ibn Jabalah from Ishaq ibn ‘Ammar who has said the following:

“Once I complained before abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, about my neighbor and what I had suffered from him. The narrator has said that the Imam said, ‘Pray and plead before Allah against him.’ I did so and did not have any results and I went back to the Imam to complain. He said, ‘Pray against him.’ I said, ‘May Allah keep my soul in service for your cause, I have already done but have not seen any result.’ The Imam said, ‘How did you pray against him?’ I said, ‘When I met him I prayed against him.’ The Imam said, ‘Pray against him when he moves away from you.’ I then did as I was told and Allah very soon granted me relief.’”

H 3234, CH 33, h 2
It is narrated from abu al-Hassan, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“When any of you prays against the other person he should say, ‘O Lord, strike him with peerless misfortune in the night and allow his defenses to be ransacked.’”

H 3235, CH 33, h 3
Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn ‘Isa from Ali ibn al-Hakam from Malik ibn ‘Atiyyah from Yunus ibn ‘Ammar who has said the following:

“Once I said to abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, ‘I have a neighbor from Quraysh from the family of Muhriz who propagates against me negatively. Whenever I pass by he calls me a Rafida (rejecting successors to the Holy Prophet who are not special members of his family) and that I collect funds for Ja’far ibn Muhammad, recipient of divine supreme covenant.’ The Imam said, ‘Pray to Allah against him in the last Sajdah (prostration) of the second Rak’at of Tahajjud (nightly prayer). Praise Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, and glorify Him and say, ‘O Lord, so and so, son of so and so propagates against me negatively, he has caused me anger and has exposed me to danger, O Lord, strike him a quick arrow to divert him away from me, O Lord, bring the time of his death closer, eliminate his traces and make it fast, O Lord, in this hour, in this hour!’ When I arrived in al-Kufa during the night and asked my family about him, how is so and so doing? They told me that he was ill. My words were not finished when I heard crying from the house of that man. They said that he had died.'"

فَسأَلْت أَهْلَنا عَنْه قُلْت ما فَعلَ فُلَانٌ فَقَالُوا هو مرِيضٌ فَما انْقَضى آخِر كَلَامِي حتى سمِعْت الصياح مِنْ منْزِلِه و قَالُوا قَدْ مات

Ahmad ibn Muhammad al-Kufi has narrated from Ali ibn al-Hassan al-Taymi from Ali ibn Asbat from Ya'qub ibn Salim who has said the following:

"Once I was in the presence of abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and al-'Ala' ibn Kamil said to him, 'So and so acts against me again and again, if you consider it proper, pray to Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy.' The Imam said, 'This is more than enough for you. Say, "O Lord, You are sufficient for everything and nothing is sufficient for You. Suffice me in the matters of so and so with whatever You wish, in whatever way You wish, from wherever You wish and whenever You wish."'

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from ibn abu Najran from Hammad ibn 'Uthman from al-Misma'I who has said that when Dawud ibn Ali killed al-Mu'alla' ibn Khunays, abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said the following:

"Abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said, 'I will pray to Allah against whoever has murdered my Mawla (servant) and has seized my property.' Dawud ibn Ali then said, 'You threaten me with your prayer! (But I am not afraid).' Hammad has said that al-Misma'i said that Mu'attib said to me, 'Abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, that night continued his Ruku' and Sajdah and, when it was morning, I hear him saying in Sajdah (prostration) "O Lord, I ask You through Your power that is strong, through Your glory that is intense, that has humbled Your creatures, grant favors to Muhammad and his family and seize him (the enemy) in this hour! Seize him in this hour!' He had not yet raised his head that we heard crying and wailing from the house of Dawud ibn Ali. Abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, raised his head and said, 'I prayed to Allah with a prayer and Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, sent an angel over him to hit his head with an iron bar that ruptured his bladder and caused his death.'"

Note: Dawud ibn Ali was the governor of Madinah during the rule of abu al-'Abbas al-Saffah. He ordered al-Mu'alla to identify for him every Shi'a (follower 'A'immah) of abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant. He refused saying, 'Even if they were under my foot I would not raise it to expose them.' He was murdered and the properties of abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, with him was seized.

Then turn it to him and say, 'If so and so has rejected a truth or made a false claim, send upon him a misfortune from the sky or a painful punishment.' Then the Imam said to me, 'You will very shortly see it in him.' Chapter Thirty Five

The Expressions with Which the Lord, the Most Blessed, the Most High, Has Glorified Himself

H 3243, CH 35, h 1

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from Safwan ibn Yahya from Ishaq ibn ‘Ammar from certain individuals of his people from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“In three hours of the day and in three hours of the night Allah, the Majestic, the Glorious, glorifies Himself. The first hours of the day begin when the distance of the sun from this side, the East, is equal to that between ‘Asr (the beginning of afternoon prayer), on the West, and the start of the time of the first prayer (prayer at noon time), and the first hours of night which begin with the start of the remaining one third of the night to dawn.

“Allah says, ‘I am Allah, Cherisher of the worlds, I am Allah, the Most High, the Most Great, I am Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Wise, I am Allah, the Most Forgiving, the Most Merciful, I am Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful, I am Allah, the Owner of the Day of Judgment, I am Allah, Who has always been and will be, I am Allah, the Creator of the good and bad, I am Allah, the Creator of paradise and fire, I am Allah, the Initiator of all things and to Me it returns, I am Allah, the only One and Self-sufficient, I am Allah, the Knower of the unseen and the seen, I am Allah, the Owner, the Holy, the Peace, the Protector, the Dominant, the Compeller, the One who is Proud, I am Allah, the Creator, the Designer, and the Shape-giver. I have all good names; I am Allah, the Great and the Most Lofty.’

“The narrator has said that abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, then said in his own words, ‘Greatness is His dress. Whoever disputes Him in that, He (Allah) will throw him in fire.’ The Imam then said, ‘Whoever of the believing people prays to Him in these words turning with his heart to Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, He will grant his wish. Even if he is a person of evil fortune, I hope he will change into a person of good fortune.’”

A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from ibn Faddal from ‘Abd Allah ibn Bukayr from ‘Abd Allah ibn ‘A’Yun from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“Allah, the Most Blessed, the Most High, glorifies Himself three times every-day and night. Whoever glorifies Allah with the words with which He has glorified Himself, and happens to be in a condition of misfortune, Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, will turn him into a condition of good fortune.

“He should say, ‘You are Allah, no one deserves to be worshipped except You, the Cherisher of the worlds. You are Allah; no one deserves to be worshipped except You, the Beneficent, the Merciful. You are Allah, no one deserves to be worshipped except You, the Most Majestic, the Most (High) Great, You are Allah, no one deserves to be worshipped except You, the Owner of the Day of Judgment. Abu Ali al-Ash'ari has narrated from Muhammad ibn 'Abd al-Jabbar from Muhammad ibn Isma'Il from abu Isma'Il al-Sarraj from al-Husayn ibn al-Mukhtar from a man from abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"Anyone who says in the morning, 'O Lord, this morning I am under Your protection and bailsmanship, O Lord, I leave my religion, myself, my world, my hereafter, my family, and my belongings in Your trust and I seek protection with You, O Great, against the evil of all of Your creatures. I seek protection with You against the evil of the confusion of Satan and his army,' nothing will harm him that day. If in the evening he says this nothing can harm him that night by the will of Allah, the Most Blessed, the Most High.'"

A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn 'Isa from al-Husayn ibn Sa'Id from 'Uthman ibn 'Isa from Ali ibn abu Hamza from abu Basir from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"When you perform the Maghrib (prayer at sunset) and morning prayers say, '(I begin) in the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful, there are no means and no power without the help of Allah, the Most High, the Most Great,' seven times. Whoever says this will not suffer from leprosy, insanity as well as seventy other kinds of misfortunes. The Imam said, 'If you say in the morning and in the evening, "All praise belongs to Allah, Lord of the morning and all praise belongs to Allah, Who opens up the morning', [two times]. 'All praise belongs to Allah, who removes the night by His power and brings the morning through His favor and we enjoy good health,' then recite verses 255 of Chapter Two of the Holy Quran, the last verse of Chapter 59 and ten verses of Chapter 37: 'Your Lord, the Lord of Honor, is by far more exalted and above being considered as they describe Him. (37:180) Peace be with the Messengers (of Allah) (37:181). It is only Allah, the Lord of the worlds, Who deserves all praise.' (37:182) and, 'Glory belongs to Allah, when they (creatures) are in the morning and in the evening, (30:17) all praise belongs to Allah, in the heavens and on earth, at later evening and at noon time, (30:18) He brings out the living from the dead and the dead from the living, gives life to earth after it dies away and in a similar way you will come to life again.' (30:19) and, 'He is Glorious and Most Holy, Lord of the angels and the Spirit. (O Lord,) Your mercy comes before Your anger, no one deserves to be worshipped except You, glory belongs to You. I have committed evil deeds and wronged myself, grant me forgiveness, grant me mercy and accept my repentance; You grant acceptance to repentance; You are most Merciful.'"

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu 'Umayr from Mu'awiyah ibn 'Ammar from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"O Lord, all praise belongs to You. I praise You, beg assistance from You. You are my Lord, and I am Your servant. This morning I am with Your covenant and promise. I believe in Your promise and I am truthful to Your covenant as much as I can. There are no means and no power without the help of Allah, alone, Who has no partner. I testify that Muhammad is His servant and Messenger. This morning I follow the original religion of submission (Islam), and the word of sincerity, the tradition of Ibrahim and the religion of Muhammad. With this I live and will die, if Allah so wills. O Lord, grant me life, as long as You want, on this (belief) and cause me to die when You will cause me to die with this (belief), and raise me when you will with this (belief). Through this I seek Your happiness, and follow Your way. From You I beg support and to You I leave my affairs. Ale (family of) Muhammad, are my 'A'immah (plural of Imam) and no one else is my Imam. I follow them, it is they whom I love and their footsteps I follow. O Lord, allow them to be my guardians in this world and in the hereafter and make me love their friends and be the enemy of their enemies in this world and in the next life. Join me with the virtuous people and my anscestors with them.'"

The Imam said say, 'All praise belongs to Allah, who does as He wills, and does not do what anyone else wants. All praise belongs to Allah, as Allah loves to be praised. All praise belongs to Allah, as He deserves. O Lord, keep me in every good in which You have kept Muhammad and his family and keep me out of every evil from which You have kept out Muhammad and his family. O Lord, grant al-Salat (favors) upon Muhammad and his family.'"

"You may give up whatever you give up but do not give up to say every morning and in the evening the following:

"O Lord, this morning I seek forgiveness from You on this day for the people of kindness and disavow the people subject to Your condemnation.

"O Lord, this morning and on this day I disavow the pagans around us, and what they worship. They were an evil people.

"O Lord, this morning and on this day make everything that You will send from the sky to earth a blessing for Your friends and a punishment for Your enemies.

"O Lord, love those who love You and be the enemy of Your enemies.

"O Lord, finish for me every sunset and sunrise with peace and belief.

"O Lord, forgive my parents and me and be kind to them just as they were kind to me for bringing me up as a small person.

"O Lord, forgive the believing male and female, Muslim male and female, their living and their dead. O Lord, You know their activities and their dwellings.

"O Lord, protect the Imam of the Muslims with the protection of belief, grant him a powerful victory, easy conquest and assign for him and for us, from before You, a supportive authority.

"O Lord, condemn so and so and the groups who deferred against Your Messenger, people possessing Authority from You after Your Messenger, the 'A'immah after him and their Shi'a (followers). I plead before You for more of Your generosity, to affirm whatever he (Your Messenger) has brought from You, submission to Your command, and to be protective of what You have commanded to follow. I do not want thereby any payment or to sell it for a little price.

All praise belongs to Allah, Who has no children, never had a partner in the kingdom, all praise belongs to Allah Who describes things and Himself is beyond description, knows and is not known. He knows the secret glance of eyes and what hearts hide. I seek protection with Allah's honorable face, with Allah's great name against the evil of what He has spread and settled, the evil under the ground, the evil of what is manifest or hidden, the evil of things in the night and during the day, the evil of abu Murrah (Satan) and what he has given birth to, the evil of false emotional attraction, the evil of what I mentioned and what I have not mentioned. All praise belongs to Allah, Cherisher of the worlds.' The Imam said, 'It is protection against beasts, Satan condemned to be stoned and his offspring.' Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, would say in the morning, 'Glory belongs to Allah, the King, the Most Holy, three times, O Lord, I seek protection against my loss of Your bounties, change in good health that You have given, Your sudden displeasure, the approaching of misfortune, and the evil of what came to pass in the book. O Lord, I plead before You through the majesty of Your kingdom, the intensity of Your power, the greatness of Your domain and Your power over Your creatures.'"

O Lord, make this day a blessing for me, grant me success, victory, support, cleanliness, guidance, its blessings, and divert away from me its evil, and the evil of that which is in it. In the name of Allah, with the help of Allah, Allah is greater than can be described; all praise belongs to Allah, Lord of the worlds. O Lord, I have come out, make my exit a blessing and benefit me thereby.' The narrator has said that on entering his house also he would say this."

"Whoever after every prayer, holds his beard in his right hand and says, 'O the Owner of glory and magnanimity, have mercy upon me against fire,' three times, with the left hand raised and the palms up to the sky and says, 'Grant me safety from the painful torment,' three times, then removes his hand from his beard and raises it with palms up to the sky and says, 'O Majestic, O Magnanimous, O Beneficent, O Merciful,' then changes the position of his hands and turns his palms up to the sky and says, 'Grant me safety against painful torment,' three times, 'Grant al-Salat (favors) upon Muhammad and his family, the angels and the spirit,' his sins are covered for him, is pleased with, plea for forgiveness for him is continued up to the time of his death, by all the creatures except the two heavy populations of Jinn and humankind. He after completing the testimonies of belief (tashahhud) raising his hands says, 'O Lord, grant me forgiveness, a decisive and ascertained forgiveness that does not leave any of sins that I have committed and that I will never commit any unlawful act thereafter. Grant me good health so that thereafter I will never face any suffering, grant me guidance so that thereafter I will never stray, benefit me O Lord by what You have instructed me with, turn it in my favor and not against me, grant me enough for sustenance and help me to remain content with it. O Lord, accept my repentance, O Allah, O Allah, O Allah, O Beneficent, O Beneficent, O Beneficent, O Merciful, O Merciful, O Merciful, grant me mercy against the roaring fire, extend for me sustenance from Your vast provisions, grant me guidance in disputed matters, in the matters of the truth by Your permission, protect me against Satan, the condemned to stoning, convey to Muhammad and the family of Muhammad, recipient of divine supreme covenant, a great deal of my greetings of peace, guide me with Your guidance, grant me wealth from Your wealth, allow me to be one of Your sincere friends and grant al-Salat (favors) upon Muhammad and his family, Amin.'

"The Imam said, 'Whoever says this after each prayer Allah will return his spirit to him in his grave and he will be alive receiving sustenance, pampered and happy to the Day of Judgment.'"

It is narrated from him (narrator of the Hadith above) from certain individuals of his people from in a marfu' manner from the Imam, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"Say after the morning prayer, 'O Lord, to You belongs all praise, the eternal praise, with Your eternity, to You belongs all praise, the praise that does end before Your consent, to You belongs all praise, the timeless praise except as Your wish, to

You belongs all praise, a praise whose speaker's reward could be no other thing but Your approval, O Lord, to You belongs all praise, to You is the complaint and You are the supporter, O Lord, to You belongs all praise, as You deserve it, all praise belongs to Allah with all of His praiseworthy attributes for all of His bounties until praising reaches such a degree that my Lord loves and is pleased with.' After the morning prayer and before speaking to anyone say, 'All praise belongs to Allah, to the fill of the balance, to the limits of consent, to the weight of the Throne, may I glorfy Allah, Who is free of all defects, to the fill of the balance, to the limits of assent and the weight of the Throne,' four times, then say, 'O Lord, I plead before You like a lowly servant to grant al-Salat (favors) upon Muhammad and his family, forgive our sins, grant our wishes in this world and in the hereafter with ease and good health.'"

H 3338, CH 52, h 6

A number of our people have narrated from Sahl ibn Ziyad from certain individuals of his people from Muhammad ibn al-Faraj who has said the following:

"Once abu Ja'far ibn al-Rida, recipient of divine supreme covenant, wrote to me and instructed me with this supplication saying, 'Whoever recites it after the morning prayer, his wish will come true with ease and Allah will suffice him: "(I begin) in the name of Allah and with Allah. O Lord, grant al-Salat (favors) upon Muhammad and his family. I plead before Allah to keep my affairs in trust with Him, Allah knows well (His) servants. 'Allah protected him (the believer among the people of Pharoah) against the evil of what they had planned against him. . . .'(40:44,45) 'No one deserves to be worshipped except You, You are free of all defects. I have been unjust to myself.' (21:87) 'We answered his prayer and saved him from sorrow and thus, We save the believing people.'(21:88) '. . . Allah is sufficient for us and He is the best representative.' (3:173) 'They returned with the bounties of Allah and additional favors without being touched by evil. . . .' (3:174), it is as Allah wills, there are no means and no power without Allah, the Most High, the Most Great.

"It is as Allah wills, not as people will. It is as Allah wills even though people may dislike it. Sufficient for me is the Lord instead of those cherished, sufficient for me is the Creator instead of the creatures, sufficient for me is the provider of sustenance instead of the recipients of sustenance, the One Who has always been sufficient for me from the time I existed, sufficient for me is Allah besides Whom no one deserves to be worshipped, before Him I place my trust and He is the Lord of the great Throne.'

"The Imam said, 'When you complete an obligatory prayer say, 'I have accepted the fact that Allah is my Lord, Muhammad is the Holy Prophet, Islam is the religion, the Holy Quran is the Book and so and so . . . (mention your 'A'immah) are my 'A'immah. O Lord, protect Your friend, (whom You have granted Divine Authority) so and so . . . (mention the twelfth Imam) from all directions, front, back, right, left, above and below, grant him a long life and make him the one who will rise with Divine Authority to support Your religion, show him what he loves and is the delight to his eyes, in his own person, his descendents, his family, belongings, his followers and his enemies. Show them (his enemies) what frightens them and show him in them what he loves and be the delight to his eyes, grant the cure for our suffering chests (hearts) and the chests of the believing people.'

Abu Basir has narrated from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“Ali ibn al-Husayn, recipient of divine supreme covenant, would pray and plead before Allah for help with this supplication: ‘O Lord, I plead before You for good means of living with which I may gain power for all of my needs and continue my life to the next life, but not so affluently with which I may rebel, or such constraints that make me miserable. Expand for me Your lawful sustenance, and increase for me Your generous favor, a delightful bounty, and a charity for me without being obliged. Do not cause me to be held back from paying thanks for Your bounties due to abundance of the same, its attractive beauty and its plentifulness, nor such constraint that toiling for it would reduce my deeds, and its worries fill up my chest (mind). Bestow upon me, O Lord, self-sufficiency from Your evil creatures and a means with which I can gain Your pleasure. I seek protection with You O Lord, against the evil of this world and the evil that is therein, do not make the world a prison for me, or departing it a sorrow. Take me out of its trials and tribulations, while You are happy with me, and my deeds accepted, to the house of life, the dwelling of the virtuous people. Replace for me the vanishing worldly bounties with the bounties of the eternal house. O Lord, I seek protection with You against its constraints, shaky conditions, the attacks of its devils, rulers, its troubles and against the rebelliousness of those who rebel against me in this world. O Lord, plan against those who plot against me, decide against those who transgress against me, turn of no effect that edge of which one may have established against me, divert away from me the flame of the blazing fire that is fueled against me, suffice me the plots of the evil planners, holding back away from me the spies of the unbelievers. Suffice me to cope with the worries for whom I am worried, repulse away from me the evils of the envious ones and grant me protection against such evils with calm and dress me up with Your formidable coat of arms, hide me in Your protective shelter, correct my condition, justify my words by my deeds, bestow upon me blessings in my family and belongings.’”

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn Mahbub from al-Hassan ibn 'Ammar al-Dahhan from Misma' from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"When Joseph's brothers threw him in the well, Jibril (Gabriel) came to him and asked, 'O young man, what are you doing here?' He replied, 'My brothers have thrown me in the well.' Jibril (Gabriel) asked, 'Would you like to get out of the well?' He said, 'That is up to Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, if He wills, He will take me out.' Jibril (Gabriel) said, 'Allah, the Most High, says you should plead before Him for help with this supplication so He takes you out of the well.' He then asked, 'What is that supplication?' Jibril (Gabriel) told him to say, 'O Lord, I plead before You, acknowledging that all praise belongs to You, no one deserves to be worshipped except You, Who confers favors, the Inventor of the heavens and earth, Possessor of glory and magnanimity, grant al-Salat (favors) upon Muhammad and his family, find a way out of the condition in which I am.' The Imam said, 'What happened to Joseph thereafter is what Allah has mentioned in His book, the Holy Quran.'" (See Chapter 12 of the Holy Quran)

"Abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has also said, 'If anyone feels apprehensive in the presence of a ruler, he should say, "By the help of Allah, I seek conquest, by the power of Allah I will achieve success and through Muhammad, recipient of divine supreme covenant, I turn to (Allah). O Lord, ease up his difficult attitude for me, and soften for me his hardheartedness; You delete what You will, and establish. With You there is the original book." He is the Lord of the Great Throne, through the means of Allah and His power I seek (from Allah) to prevent their means and power (from harming me), I seek prevention by the Lord, who opens up the dawn, against the evil of what He has created, there are no means and no power without Allah.'"

"Once in the neck of one of our female servant, a scrofula appeared, and someone came to me and said, O Ali, tell her to say, 'O Compassionate, O Merciful, O Lord, O my Master,' repeatedly. The Imam said, 'She did as she was instructed and Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, removed the disease.' He (Imam) said that this is the supplication with which Ja'far ibn Sulayman had prayed, (his troubles were removed)."

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from al-Husayn who has said the following:

"Once I asked abu al-Hassan, recipient of divine supreme covenant, to instruct me with a supplication while I was behind him. The Imam said, 'O Lord, I plead before You, through Your magnanimous face, Your great name, Your majesty beyond reach, through Your power beyond control, to facilitate for me such and such.' The narrator has said that the Imam wrote for me a note in his own handwriting, 'O the One Who is High, thus, has subdued (all things), the unseen Who has knowledge (of all things), O the One who owns (all things), thus, has measured (all things), O the One who gives life to the dead and has power over all things, grant al-Salat (favors) upon Muhammad and his family, and provide me such and such needs." Then the Imam said, 'O the One beside whom no one deserves to be worshipped, grant me favors.' He wrote for me in another note instructing me to say, 'O Lord, defend me by Your means and power. O Lord, I plead before You this day, this month, in this year for Your blessings and if any trouble, misfortune or punishment that may take place therein, keep them away from me and my children by Your means and power; You have power over all things. O Lord, I seek protection with You against the loss of bounties, change in good health, sudden misfortune, and the evil of the past record of deeds. O Lord, I seek protection with You against the evil of my soul, the evil of every walking creature that You control by their forehead You have power over all things. Allah's knowledge encompasses all things and has enumerated all things.'"

"During certain expeditions people complained before the Messenger of Allah against fleas that irritated them. He (the Messenger of Allah) said, 'When going into your bed say, "O black jumping thing that does not stop by the barrier or door I ask you by the original Book, do not irritate me and my companions until the night passes and morning comes with whatever it will bring along.'" The narrator has said, 'As we know the last part of this Hadith has the following expression: 'Until morning comes back when it is the time to come back.'"

Ali ibn has narrated from ibn Jumhur from his father from Muhammad ibn Sinan from ‘Abd Allah ibn Sinan from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“Amir al-Mu’minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, ‘If you come face to face with a beast say, ‘I seek protection with the Lord of Daniel and the well against the evil of all powerful lions.”

Note: Daniel was thrown in a well with wild beasts but they did not harm him.

Muhammad ibn Ja’far abu al-‘Abbas has narrated from Muhammad ibn ‘Isa from Salih ibn Sa’id from Ibrahim ibn Muhammad ibn Harun who wrote to abu Ja’iar, recipient of divine supreme covenant, asking for a supplication for protection of children against bothering gasses:

“The Imam wrote in his own hand writing the following supplications for protection and Salih thought that the Imam had sent them to Ibrahim: ‘Allah is greater than can be described, Allah is greater than can be described, Allah is greater than can be described. I testify that no one deserves to be worshipped except Allah. I testify that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah. Allah is greater than can be described. Allah is greater than can be described. No one deserves to be worshipped except Allah. No one is my Lord, except Allah, to Him belongs the kingdom, all praise belongs to Him and He has no partner. Allah is free of all defects. As Allah willed it was, whatever He did not will did not come into being. O Lord, the Possessor of glory and magnanimity, Lord of Moses, Jesus and Ibrahim who fulfilled his duty, Lord of Ibrahim, Isma’il, Ishaq, Ya’qub and the tribes, no one deserves to be worshipped except You. I glorify You by means of Your signs that You have shown, by means of Your greatness, and by means of the facts with which the prophets pleaded before You for help that You are Lord of the people, that You were before everything and that You will be after everything, I plead before You through Your name with which You hold the skies from falling on earth except by Your permission, through Your perfect words with which You bring the dead to life, grant protection to Your servant so and so against the evil of whatever comes down from the sky and whatever goes up into the sky, whatever comes out of the earth and whatever enters into it, peace be with the messengers, all praise belongs to Allah, Lord of the worlds.’

“He also wrote in his own handwriting, ‘In the name of Allah, with (the help of) Allah, to Allah, and as Allah wills, I seek protection (from Allah) for him with the majesty of Allah, with the might of Allah, with the power of Allah, with the possession of Allah, this writing is cure from Allah for so and so, son of male and female, two servants of Allah, O Allah, bestow al-Salat (favors) upon Muhammad and his family.’”

Chapter Fifty Eight

Supplication Before the Recitation of the Holy Quran

In a mursal manner it is narrated that abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, would read this supplication before reciting from the book of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy:

"O Lord, our Cherisher, all praise belongs to You, You surpass all things in power and strong authority, all praise belongs to You, You are the Most High with majesty and pride, above the heavens and the great Throne, O Lord, all praise belongs to You, You are Self-sufficient with Your knowledge and every knowledgeable one stands in need for Your knowledge, O Lord, all praise belongs to You, O the One who sends down miracles and signs and the great reminder. O Lord, all praise belongs to You for Your instructing us with wisdom and the great, clear Quran, O Lord, You instructed us before we had any interest in learning it, You appropriated it for us before our having any interest in its benefits. O Lord, this was a favor from You, an act of extra generosity, kindness and mercy to us without our being able or have the resources or power (for such achievement). O Lord, make its reading and memorization of its verses, belief in its unclear verses, acting upon its clear verses beloved to us and a means for its interpretations, guidance in its application and insight in its light.

"O Lord, You have revealed it as a cure for Your friends, misfortune for Your enemies, blindness for those who disobey You, and a light for those who obey You. O Lord, make it a shield for us against Your punishment, protection against Your anger, a barrier against disobeying You, safety against Your displeasure, guide to obey You, a light, for the day we meet You, to see Your creatures, pass Your bridge, and find guidance to Your paradise.

"O Lord, we seek protection with You against facing misfortune to apply it (the Holy Quran), blindness in practicing its guidance, transgressing against its rules, going above the limit or falling short in its rights. O Lord, carry on for us its weight, make due for us its rewards, grant the opportunity to thank for it, make us to look after and care for it.

"O Lord, make us to follow its lawful rules and avoid violating its rules for unlawful things, apply its laws and pay its dues. O Lord, make its recitation sweet to us, give us energy to recite it at night, respect in reading it with clarity, ability to benefit from it in the nights and on both sides of the day.

"O Lord, satisfy us with shorter sleep, wake us up in the hour of the night from the rest of those who rest (sleep), wake us up from sleep, in the time in which prayer is accepted and supplications are heard. O Lord, make our hearts intelligent in its wonderful facts that do not end, delighted in repeated reading to learn a lesson from the review of the reading, and clearly benefit to understand it. O Lord, we seek protection with You against the remaining of its meaning out of our hearts, leaving it (ignored) when we sleep and throwing it behind our backs. We seek protection with You against our hardheartedness toward Your advice for us in it.

"O Lord, benefit us from the signs You have mentioned in it, remind us of the examples You have presented in it, expiate our sins with its interpretation, increase the reward with it (the Holy Quran) the good deeds, raise our degrees with it, and reward in the positions and avail us with it good news after death. O Lord, make it a supply to provide us strength in the waiting area in Your presence (for judgment), a clear path to walk toward You, beneficial knowledge to benefit from, in thanking for Your bounties, a true humility to glorify Your names; You have admitted it as evidence against us that abolishes our excuses, You have made it such a bounty for which we can never pay enough thanks.

"O Lord, make it a friend for us to keep us away from slipping (mistakes), a guide to show us the virtuous deeds, a helping guide to protect us from deviating, a support for us against the other religions until we reach our best hopes. O Lord, make it our intercessor on the day we will meet You, a weapon for the day of progress, testimony for the Day of Judgment, a light for the dark day, when there will be no earth and no sky, the day when every worker will find the result of his work. O Lord, make it for us a quenching source on the day of thirst, success on the day of receiving rewards and (a shield) against the hot fire in which there is a lack of kindness to those heated up therein with its blazing heat. O Lord, grant us privilege with the position of the martyr, living of the people of salvation, and friendship of the prophets; You hear the pleading for help.'"

Chapter Fifty Nine

Supplication for Memorizing the Holy Quran

H 3418, CH 59, h 1

A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Khalid from those whom he has mentioned (in his book) from ‘Abd Allah ibn Sinan from Aban ibn Taghlib from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“Abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has, when pleading for help to memorize the Holy Quran, said that one should say, ‘O Lord, I plead before You and Your servants have never pleaded before anyone who could be like You. I plead before You through Muhammad, Your prophet, and messenger, Ibrahim, Your friend and chosen one, Moses, the party to Your conversation and whisper, Jesus, Your word and spirit, I plead before You through the books of Ibrahim, the Torah of Moses, Zabur of Dawud, Injil of Jesus, the Holy Quran of Muhammad, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and through every inspiration and revelation that You have made, determinations that You have approved, the right that You fulfilled, those whom You have made rich, the straying that You have guided, the beggars to whom You have given charity, I plead before You through Your name that You place on the night to become dark, through Your name that You place on the day to become bright, through Your name that You place on earth to settle, in the heavens to hold as pillars and in the mountains to stand firm. I plead before You through Your name with which You spread the sustenance, through Your name with which You bring the dead to life, I plead before You through the bond of majesty of Your Throne, the limits of Your mercy and kindness from Your book, I plead before You to bestow al-Salat (favors) upon Muhammad and his family, to confer upon me memorization of the Holy Quran and varieties of knowledge, to establish it firmly in my heart, my hearing, and my sight and mix it with my flesh, blood, bone marrow and make me benefit thereby in my nights and days, through Your kindness and power; there are no means and no power without You, O the Living, the Guardian.’”

In another Hadith additionally it is said, “I plead before You, through Your name with which Your servants whose prayer is accepted prayed and Your prophets, then You forgave them and showed them kindness. I plead before You with everyone of Your names that You have revealed in Your books, with Your name with which Your Throne stood up in place, with Your one name, the only, the single and the sole one, the Most High that fills up all corners, the purifying, the pure, the blessing, the Holy, the Living, the Guardian, the light of the heavens and earth, the Beneficent, the Merciful, the Great, the Most High, and Your revealed book with the truth, Your perfect words, Your full light, with Your greatness and strength.”

In another Hadith the Messenger of Allah has said, ‘Whoever wants Allah to make him a container (proper follower of the guidance) of the Holy Quran and knowledge should write this supplication in a clean pot with white honey then wash it with rain water before reaching the earth and drink it for three days before breakfast, it will help him memorize the Holy Quran by the will of Allah.’”

Confer upon me the opportunity to read the way it will please You with me. O Lord, give light with Your book to my eyes, open thereby my chest, enlightened with it my heart, free up with it my tongue, make my body work for it and strengthen me thereby, there is no helper in this task except You, no one deserves to be worshipped except Allah."'"

"Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, would say, 'O Lord, oblige me with the ability to place my trust in You and leave my affairs in Your hands, agree with Your measures, submit to Your command so that I do not love the hastening of what You have delayed or the delay of what You have hastened, O Lord of the worlds.'"

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from Muhammad ibn Sinan from Sujaym from ibn abu Muhammad ibn Ya'Fur who has said the following:

"I heard abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, his hands raised to the sky, 'O Lord, do not ever leave me to myself, not even for a blinking of an eye, no less or more than that,' and immediately with this tears flowed down on both sides of his beard. He then turned to me and said, 'O ibn Ya'fur, Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, left Yunus son of Mathew to his own self for less than a blinking of an eye and that sin came to take place.' I then asked, 'May Allah keep you well, did he reach disbelief in it?' The Imam said, 'No, but dying in such a condition is destruction.'"

"Once abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, on his own initiation said to me, 'O Mu'awiyah, bear in mind that a man once came to Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, complaining of the delay for the answer to his prayer. Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, asked, "Why do you not pray with the quick for acceptance supplication (prayer quickly accepted)?" The man then said, 'Please tell me what that supplication is?' The Imam told him to say, 'O Lord, I plead before You through Your great name, the greatest one, the glorious one, the magnanimous one, the one treasured and hidden, the light of the truth, and the clear authority in the argument. It is a light with light, a light from a light, a light in a light, a light over a light, a light above all lights, a light that illuminates all darkness, crumbles down all hardships, all condemned devils and every hardheaded tyrant. (It is such) a light that the earth cannot hold and the sky cannot not withstand. With it every frightened person feels secure, every magician's magic will turn invalid, and the transgression of every transgressor, the envy of every envier will turn ineffective. Due to its greatness the ocean splits open, the ships sail in safety when the angel speak with it, the waves will have no way to it and that is Your greatest of great, glorious of glorious name, the great light with which You have named Yourself and with it You have established Your power over Your Throne. I turn to You through Muhammad and his family and I plead before You to grant al-Salat (favors) upon Muhammad and his family, to provide me help in such and such of my needs. (One then should mention his wishes)'"

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from al-Hassan ibn Ali from Karram from ibn abu Ya'fur from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"O Lord, fill my heart with love for You, concern about You, affirmation of and belief in Your existence, fear from You and longing toward You, O Glorious, O Magnanimous. O Lord, make me love meeting You, and such meeting to be good, mercy, and full of blessings, join me with the virtuous and do not leave me behind with the wicked ones. Join me with the virtuous of the past and those to come, lead me on the path of virtuous ones, assist me against my soul by that with which You assist the virtuous ones against their souls, do not turn me in the evil from which You want to rescue me, O Lord of the worlds. I plead before You for a belief free of timing before meeting You, with which You will keep me living, cause me to die, and raise me up with it when You will resurrect me. Free my heart from showing off, desire for popularity, and doubt in Your religion.

"O Lord, give me victory in Your religion, energy to worship, understanding of Your creatures, support me twice with Your kindness (in this life and hereafter), brighten my face with Your light, make me interested in what is with You, cause me to die in Your way and in Your religion, the religion of Your Messenger.

"O Lord, I seek protection against laziness, old age, cowardice, stinginess, carelessness, hardheartedness, weakness, and destitution. I seek protection with You, O Lord against a soul that does not become satisfied, the heart that does not become humble, the supplication that is not heard, and the prayer (formal) that does not yield any benefit. I seek protection with You for myself, my family, and my children against condemned Satan.

"O Lord, no one can protect me against You, I do not find any place to hide from You, do not humiliate me and do not throw me in perdition and in torment. I plead before You to keep me to remain steadfast in Your religion, affirm Your book, and follow Your messenger.

"O Lord, speak of me with Your mercy and do not speak of me with my sins, accept from me (my good deeds), increase for me from Your generosity; I am interested toward You. O Lord, make my reward for speaking and sitting to be Your happiness with me, make my deeds and supplication purely for You, make my reward paradise through Your mercy, place me together with all I pleaded for before You and increase for me through Your favor; I am greatly interested toward You. O Lord, the stars have disappeared, eyes have gone to sleep, You are living and guarding, the dark night cannot disappear from You nor the starry skies or the well-stretched earth, the choppy ocean, or the darkness upon darkness. You send mercy upon whomever You will among Your creatures; You know the secret glance of the eyes and what the hearts conceal. I testify to what You have testified for yourself, to what Your angels have testified, and people of knowledge have testified that no one deserves to be worshipped except You, the Majestic, the Wise. Whoever does not testify to what You have testified for yourself, Your angels have testified, and people of knowledge have testified, then write my testimony in place of their testimony. O Lord, You are the Peace, and from You is peace. I plead before You, O the Owner of glory and magnanimity to set my neck free of the fire.'"

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn Mahbub from Muhammad ibn Yahya al-Khath'ami from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"Once abu Dharr came to the Messenger of Allah while Jibril (Gabriel) was, in the form of Dihyah al-Kalbi (one of the companions of the Holy Prophet), in a private meeting with the Messenger of Allah. When he saw them he turned away from them and did not want to disrupt their conversation. Jibril (Gabriel) said, 'O Muhammad this was abu Dharr passed by us and did not offer us the greeting of peace, had he done so we would have responded to his greeting. O Muhammad, he has a supplication with which he prays, and is well-known among the inhabitants of the heaven. When I will ascend ask him about it.'

"When Jibril (Gabriel) left, abu Dharr came to the Holy Prophet and the Messenger of Allah said to him, 'O abu Dharr what stopped you from offering us the greeting of peace when you passed by?' He said, 'O Messenger of Allah I thought the person with you was Dihyah al-Kalbi in a private meeting for something of your affairs.' The Messenger of Allah said, 'That was Jibril (Gabriel), O abu Dharr and he said, "Had he (abu Dharr) offered us the greeting of peace we would have responded to his greeting." When abu Dharr learned that it was Jibril (Gabriel) he, Allah knows well, how deeply he regretted his not offering the greeting. The Messenger of Allah asked, 'What is the supplication with which you pray? Jibril (Gabriel) has informed me that you have a prayer whereby you implore and it is well-known in heaven' He said, 'Yes, O Messenger of Allah, I say, "O Lord, I plead before You for peace and belief in You, affirmation of Your prophet, well-being and safety from all misfortunes, to be thankful for the well-being and safety and free of want from the people.'"

"The Imam said that of the supplications of Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, is the following: 'O Lord, You have written down the consequences, know the news, have information about the secrets, You have taken over the place between us and (our) hearts, thus, secrets are public to You and the hearts have over flown (with desire to come to you). Your command upon a thing, whenever You will, is only Your saying, 'Be,' it then comes into existence, say through Your kindness to Your obedience to enter in all and every part of my parts and do not depart from me until I will meet You, and say through Your kindness to disobedience to You to move out of all and every part of my parts and do not ever approach me thereafter until I will meet You, provide me sustenance in this world but make me live with a reduced amount and do not isolate me whenever I desire it, (sustenance) O the Beneficent one.'"

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn Mahbub from al-'Ala' ibn Razin from 'Abd al-Rahman ibn Sayabah who has said the following:

"Once abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, gave me this supplication: 'All praise belongs to Allah, the Owner, and worthy of praise, the end and the location of all praise. Those who believe in His Oneness have achieved purity, those who worship Him have found guidance, those who obey Him have triumphed and those who have sought His protection have found security. O Lord, O possessor of generosity and glory, beautiful praise and thanks, I plead before You like one who has humbled himself before You with his neck, rubbed his nose on the ground before You, as well as his face, humiliated his soul before You, whose tears have flooded for fear from You, and have continued flowing, who has confessed to his sins before You, his blunders have disgraced him before You, his crimes have made him shunned in Your presence, his power has weakened before You, his resources have diminished, his means of trickery are cut off, all falsehood has disappeared from him, his sins have forced him to lowly positions before You, and to humble himself before You, and to beg You for help. I plead before You like the plea of one who is more desirous in pleading before You than the one pleading as above, who prays before You like him and begs for help more intensely than him.

"O Lord, favor the destitution of my expression, humility of my position, my seat and humility before You with my neck. O Lord, I plead before You for guidance against straying, understanding against blindness and intelligence against transgression. O Lord, I plead before You to help me praise You the most in comfort, bear beautiful patience in hardships, the best thanks to You whenever it is the occasion to thank and submission in the doubtful conditions. I plead before You for power to obey You, weakness in disobedience, for the ability to flee to You from You, and to seek nearness to You, so that, O Lord, I seek Your happiness, give preference to doing what makes You happy with me even though it may anger the people, while I seek Your satisfaction.

"O Lord, who can I hope if You do not have kindness for me, or who cares for me if You keep me far away, or whose forgiveness benefits me, if You punish me, or whose gifts should I hope for if You deprive me of Your gifts, or who can have honor for me in his hands if You degrade me, whose degrading of me can harm me if You honor me.

"O Lord, how bad are my deeds, how obnoxious are my acts, how brutal is my heart, how lengthy are my (worldly) yearnings, how short is my life that has made it so daring to disobey my creator!

"O Lord, how good is Your trial for me, how manifest are Your bounties upon me! Your bounties upon me have become so much that I cannot even count them. My thanks to You for the preferences that You have given to me, in the joy for the bounties, is so little that I have subjected myself to punishment. I have forgotten speaking of You, have indulged in ignorance after knowledge, crossed over from justice to transgression, from virtuous deeds to sin and to fleeing for fear and sorrow. How small and little are my virtuous deeds compared to my numerous sins, how many and great are my sins compared to the small size of my structure, and weak limbs!

"O Lord, how lengthy are my (worldly) hopes in my short life, how short is my life in my lengthy hopes, how hideous is my inside and my outside! O Lord, I have no ground if argued, no excuse to find excuses, no gratitude if I would be tried or if I am favored unless You assist me to be grateful for the favor You have done to me.

"O Lord, how light will be my balance tomorrow if You will not make it weigh heavy! How reckless is my tongue if You do not keep it in place! How black is my face if You do not whiten it! O Lord, how would I deal with my sins of the past that have crushed my limbs! O Lord, how can I seek worldly desires and weep for failing to achieve them but do not weep while my regrets for disobedience have intensified and my transgression has gone to the extremities! O Lord, the worldly motives prompted me and I quickly responded, and relied upon them willingly. The motives for the gains of the hereafter prompted me but I lingered and delayed to respond and to move faster to them like the fast moving to the worldly motives, its worthless vanities, smashed up beyond use materials and its fast disappearing mirage.

"O Lord, You have frightened and encouraged me and have argued against me to prove me a slave and have sufficed me in my sustenance, but I felt secure from Your warning and lagged behind in acting upon Your encouragement, did not trust Your guarantee, and took Your argument lightly.

"O Lord, change my feeling of security from Your warning in this world into fear, my procrastination into zeal and zest and my taking Your argumentation against me lightly into serious concern and anxiety and then make me to be happy with the share of sustenance that You have assigned for me, O Magnanimous, O Magnanimous, I plead before You through Your great name so You be happy (with me) when You are angry, I beg for relief in pain and suffering, light in darkness, and understanding in the confusion of tribulation.

"O Lord, make my shield against sins formidable, my position in paradise high, my deeds all accepted, my virtuous deeds to come in multiples and pure. I seek protection with You against all misfortune, the apparent and hidden, against overeating and overdrinking, against the evil of what I know and that which I do not know. I seek protection with You against my buying ignorance at the cost of knowledge, harshness at the cost of forbearing, injustice at the cost of justice, cutting off good relations with relatives at the cost of maintaining good relations with relatives, intolerance at the cost of exercising patience, straying at the cost of guidance and disbelief at the cost of belief.'"

Ibn Mahbub has narrated from Jamil ibn Salih that he has narrated that Ali ibn Salih had a similar supplication and at the end he has added, "Amin, O Lord, of the worlds."

Ibn Mahbub has said that Nuh ibn Yaqdan has narrated from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"Say this prayer, 'O Lord, I plead before You for Your favor that cannot be achieved except with Your happiness, for (Your help to) come out of all disobedience that cannot happen without Your approval, for (Your help to) enter into all that makes You happy, for safety from all dangers, for departure from all major sins that have happened from me, willingly or have slipped out mistakenly, or have passed in my mind due to satanic induction.

"I plead before You to place fear in me that can keep me within the limits of Your approval, shatter away from me all lustful evil thoughts that have passed in my desires, that have made my opinion slip away to crossover Your lawful limits. I plead before You, O Lord, to take the best that You know, and ignore all the evil that You find or mistakes that I had no knowledge of or did have the knowledge thereof.

"I plead before You for increased sustenance, restraining to suffice with basic needs, coming out of confusing conditions with clearly stated instructions, correctness in evidence, truth in all circumstances, yielding to justice for people against or for my soul, dealing humbly in yielding to justice in all circumstances of anger and contentment, avoiding small or greater degrees of transgression in my words or deeds, completion of Your bounties in all things, and thankfulness to You for it so You are content with happiness.

"I plead before You for guidance in all the good choices wherein choices exist and are easy to achieve not that which is hard to achieve. O Magnanimous, O Magnanimous, O Magnanimous, open for me the door to the fact in which there is

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ibn abu 'Umayr from Mansur ibn Yunus from abu Basir from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"Say, 'O Lord, I plead before You, to grant me such words as those of repenting people and their deeds, the light of the prophets and their truthfulness, salvation of the fighters for Your cause and their rewards, thankfulness of the chosen ones and their good advice, actions of those who speak of You and their certainty, belief of the scholars and their deep understanding, worship of the concerned people and their humility, the judgment of the experts in the law (Shari'a) and their discipline, worries of the pious people and their interest (in religion), the affirmation of the believing people and their trusting (Allah) and the hope of the virtuous people and their good deeds.

"O Lord, I plead before You grant me a reward as that granted to those who thank (You), the position of those very near to (You) and the friendship of the prophets. O Lord, I plead before You to grant me a fear like that of the people who act for Your sake, the acts of those who fear You, the humility of those who worship You, the certainty of those who place their trust in You and the trust of the believing people with You. O Lord, You know my needs without being taught, and You are capable of helping without being burdened. You are the One Whom no pleading person can overcome verbally, or anyone can find faults with or anyone can exhaust His praise. O Lord, You are as You say and above what we say. O Lord, provide me immediate relief, great rewards, and beautiful covering. O Lord, You know that in doing injustice to myself and transgressing against it I did not take anyone as Your opposition, partner, companion, or a child.

"O the One whom pleading cannot confuse, nothing can preoccupy in listening to one from listening to the other, seeing one from seeing the other and the insistence of insisting people cannot tire Him. I plead before You to provide me relief in this hour from the sources I except or from that which I do not expect; You bring to life the bones that have turned to ashes; You have power over all things. O the One to whom my thanks had been very little but He has not deprived me, my sins were monstrous but He has not disgraced me, He found me in sins but did not encounter me. He created me for what He has created me but I have acted against what He has created me for. What a great owner are You O my Master! What a despicable slave am

I! You have found me, You are the best of finders O Lord! What a despicable thing am I to look for! It is Your slave, the son of Your slave and the son of Your female slave before You to deal with as You will. O Lord, the voices have silenced, movements have calmed down, every loving one has sought privacy with his beloved, and I have sought privacy with You. You are the beloved to me, make the privacy that I have sought with You my freedom from the fire. O the One above whom there is no person of knowledge more praiseworthy. O the One below whom there is no creature barred to reach Him. O the First before all things, O the Last after all things. O the One who has no elements, O the One for whom there is no end for annihilation, O the One of perfect attributes, O the most lenient of providers, O the One who communicates with all languages and is spoken to as well, O the One whose forgiveness had been there from long before, whose hold is stern, whose kingdom is solid, I plead before You through Your name with which You faced Moses, O Allah, O the Beneficent, O the Merciful, O the One, no one deserves to be worshipped except You. O Lord, You are Selfsufficient, I plead before You to bestow al-Salat (favors) upon Muhammad and his family and admit me in paradise."

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from Muhammad ibn al-Walid from Yunus who has said the following:

"Once I asked al-Rida, recipient of divine supreme covenant, to instruct me with a concise supplication. The Imam instructed me to say, 'O the One who has guided me to His Own self and has humbled my heart with its affirmation of His existence, I plead before You for peace and belief.'"

Ali ibn abu Hamza has narrated from certain individuals of his people from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"Once a man came to Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and said, 'O Amir al-Mu'minin, I inherited a property but did not give even one dirham in obedience to Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy. I thereafter made an earning and did not spend anything in obedience to Allah. Instruct me with a supplication that can replace for me things of the past, and what I have done be forgiven as well as what I may do.' The narrator has said that the Imam told him, 'Say.' The man asked, 'What should I say, O Amir al-Mu'minin?'

"The Imam said, 'Say as I say, "O my light in all darkness, O my comfort in all dreadful conditions, O my hope in all painful matters, O my trust in every hardship, O my guide in all straying conditions, You are my guide, when all guidance of guides is cut off but Your guidance remains. Whoever You guide does not stray off the right path. You granted me favors and made it delightful, You provided me sustenance in abundance, You fed me and made my food best, You bestowed upon me and made it the best gift without my deserving it by means of my deeds but initiated from You due to Your magnanimity and generosity. I found strength from Your magnanimity to disobey You, I gained power from Your sustenance but I disappointed You, I ruined my life in what You disliked, my daring against You, my committing what You had forbidden, my entering in things You prohibited, did not prevent You from turning to me with Your generosity, Your forbearance did not hold You back from doing favors to me even if I returned to sin and disobedience to You,

٣٥- عِلِي بْن أَبِي حمْزةَ عَنْ بعْضِ أَصْحابِهِ عَنْ أَبِي عَبْدِ اللهِ ع أَن رجلًا أَتى أَمِير الْمؤْمِنِين ع فَقَالَ يا أَمِير الْمؤْمِنِين كَانَ ِلي مالٌ ورِثْته و لَمْ أُنفِقْ مِنْه دِرْهماً ِفي طَاعةِ اللهِ عز و جل ثُم اكْتسبْت مِنْه مالًا فَلَمْ أُنفِقْ مِنْه دِرْهماً ِفي طَاعةِ اللهِ فَعلِّمْنِي دعاءً يخْلِف علَي ما مضى و يغْفِر ِلي ما عمِلْت أَوْ عملًا أَعْملُه قَالَ قُلْ قَالَ و أَي شَيْءٍ أَقُولُ يا أَمِير الْمؤْمِنِين قَالَ قُلْ كَما أَقُولُ يا نورِي ِفي كُل ظُلْمةٍ و يا أُنسِي ِفي كُل وحْشةٍ و يا رجائِي ِفي كُل كُرْبةٍ و يا ثِقَتِي ِفي كُل شِدةٍ و يا دِلِيلِي ِفي الضلَالَةِ أَنت دِلِيلِي ِإذَا انْقَطَعتْ دلَالَةُ الْأَدِلاءِ فَإِن دلَالَتك لَا تنْقَطِع و لَا يضِل مَنْ هدَيْت أَنعمْت علَي فَأَسْبغْت و رزقْتنِي فَوفَّرْت و عَذَّيتنِي فَأَحْسنْت غِذَائِي و أَعْطَيتنِي فَأَجْزلْت ِبلَا اسْتِحْقَاقٍ لِذَلِك ِبفِعْلٍ ِمني و لَكِن ابْتِداءً مِنْك ِلكَرمِك و جودِك فَتقَوَّيت ِبكَرمِك علَى معاصِيك و تقَوَّيت ِبرِزْقِك علَى سخطِك و أَفْنَيت عمرِي ِفيما لَا تحِب فَلَمْ يمْنَعْك جرْأَتِي علَيْك و ركُوبِي ِلما نهَيْتنِي عَنْه و دخولِي ِفيما حرَّمْت علَي أَنْ عُدْت علَي ِبفَضْلِك و لَمْ يمْنَعْنِي

حِلْمك عني و عَوْدك عَلَيّ بِفَضْلِك أَنْ عُدْت فِي معاصِيك فَأَنت الْعواد بِالْفَضْل و أنا الْعواد بِالْمعاصِي فَيا أَكْرم منْ أُقِر لَه بِذَنْبٍ و أَعز منْ خضِع لَه بِذُل لِكَرمِك أَقْرَرْت بِذَنْبِي و لِعِزك خضَعْت بِذُلي فَما أَنت صانِعٌ بِي فِي كَرمِك و إِقْراري بِذَنْبِي و عِزك و خضوعِي بِذُلي افْعلْ بِي ما أَنت أَهْلُه و لَا تفْعلْ بِي ما أَنا أَهْلُه

You always turn back with generosity and bounty but I always sin. How magnanimous You are to those who confess before You to their sins!

"How majestic You are to those who humble themselves before You! Before Your magnanimity I confess my sins and for Your majesty I humble myself before You. It now is all up to You what You will do to me in Your magnanimity and with my confessing my sins before You for Your majesty and my begging respectfully, I plead before You to deal with me the way it is worthy of You not according to what I deserve.'"

This is the end of the Book of prayer/supplication. It is followed by the Book of the Excellence of the Holy Quran of the Book al-Kafi. All praise belongs to Allah alone and Allah has granted blessings upon Muhammad and his family.

In the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful

Part Three

Book of the Excellence of the Holy Quran

Chapter One

H 3455, Ch 1, h 1

Ali ibn Muhammad has narrated from al-'Abbas from h n Fadl ibn Shadhan 'Abd al-Rahman from Sufyan al-Hariri from his father from Sa'd al-Khaffaf from abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"O Sa'd, learn the Holy Quran; on the Day of Judgment the Holy Quran will come in the best form that people may have ever seen. People will be present in one hundred thousand and twenty rows: the followers of Prophet Muhammad will form eighty thousand rows. The other forty thousand rows will consist of the followers of the other prophets. The Holy Quran will come to the rows of the Muslims in the form of a well-shaped man, offer them the greeting of peace and they look to him and say to each other, 'No one deserves to be worshipped except Allah, the forbearing the magnanimous, this man is one of the Muslims whom we know from his picture and qualities, however, he has been striving about the Holy Quran much harder than we, thus, he has been given this beauty, grace and light which we have not received.

"He (the Quran in the form of a person) passes toward the row of the martyrs who look at him and say, 'No one deserves to be worshipped except Allah, the Lord, the Merciful. We know from the signs and qualities he is a martyr, however, he has been of the martyrs at sea, thus, he has received this beauty and grace that is not given to us.' The Imam said, 'Then it will pass toward the martyr at sea and the martyrs at sea look at him with astonishment and say, "He is of the martyrs at sea; we know him from his signs and qualities, however, on the island where he suffered must have been much more dangerous than the island where we suffered, thus, he has received this beauty, grace and light.'

"Then he approaches the rows of the prophets and messengers in the form of a messenger prophet. The prophets and messengers look at him and their astonishment increase. They will say, 'No one deserves to be worshipped except Allah, the Most Forbearing, the Magnanimous, this is a messenger prophet; we know him from his picture and qualities, however, he has been much more virtuous.' The Imam said, 'They will come to the Messenger of Allah and ask him, "O Muhammad, who is this?" He then will ask, 'Do you not know him?' They will say, 'We do not know him, however, Allah has not been angry with him.' The Messenger of Allah will say to them, 'This is the authority of Allah over His creatures. He offers them greeting of peace and passes thereby to the rows of the angels in the form of a special angel. The angels will look at him and their astonishment increases, his status will seem very great to them. They will say our Lord is Most High, Most Holy. This servant is of the angels. We know him from his picture and qualities, however, he has been more close and special to Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, thus, he is dressed up with this much light and beauty that we have not received.' Then he will come before Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Blessed, the Most High, and will bow down below the Throne.

"Allah, the Most Blessed, the Most High, will speak to the Holy Quran saying, 'My true spoken words and authority on earth, look up and ask for your wishes. Your wishes shall be granted and your intercession shall be accepted. How did you find my servants?'

"The Holy Quran will then say, 'My Lord, certain ones among them kept me safely protected and did not lose anything from me but others among them lost me and disrespected me and called me lies even though I was Your authority to all of Your creatures.' Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, then will say, 'I swear by My Majesty, Greatness and Highness that I shall give the best reward on this day because of you and shall punish severely because of you.'

"The Imam then continued saying, 'The Holy Quran will raise his head in another shape.' I (the narrator) asked the Imam, 'O abu Ja'far in what shape it will return?' The Imam said, 'It will come in the shape of a changed man, slim and tired looking. People in the gathering will see him. Then he will come forward to one of our followers who knew it and would argue with it against the people, opposed to 'A'immah. The Holy Quran will ask him, 'Do you know me'? The man will look it (the Holy Quran) and say, 'O servant of Allah, I do not know you.' The Holy Quran then will return in his former shape with which it existed among people, and will ask, 'Do you still not know me'? He will say, 'Yes, I do know you.' It will say, 'I am the Holy Quran for which you kept the whole night awake and faced suffering in your life, hearing disappointing words from people when you spoke from me. Obviously every merchant enjoys the benefit of his trade. Today I am behind you with full support. The Holy Quran will then proceed with him to the Throne of the Lord of Majesty, the Most Blessed, the Most High, and the Quran then will say, 'Lord, this servant of You was very close to me and very careful about me. He would love others because of me and hate others just because of me.'

"Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, will then say, 'Allow my servant enter paradise and allow him be dressed and crowned and then let him come back to see his friend, the Quran.' When that servant of Allah will be well rewarded he will then come back to see his friend the Holy Quran, Allah, the Most High will ask the Holy Quran, 'Are you happy with Our rewards given to your friend?' the Holy Quran will say, 'Lord, I consider it is not enough and I request that he should receive more of all the good things. Allah then will say, 'I swear by My Majesty, Honor and Highness, I shall reward him and others like him with five things and more: I shall give them eternal youth, good health free from illness, wealth free from poverty, happiness free from sadness and life free from death.'

"The Imam then read this verse: 'They will not experience any death other than that which they have already been through.' (44:56)

"I (the narrator) then said to abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, 'May Allah keep my soul in service for your cause, does the Holy Quran speak?' The Imam smiled and said, 'May Allah grant favors upon our weak Shi'a (followers), they are people of submission.' Then he said, 'Yes, O Sa'D, prayer speaks. It has a form and shape. It commands and prohibits.' Sa'D then said, 'It changed my color and I said, "I will not be able to speak of this among people." Abu Ja'far, recipient of

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father al-Nawfali from al-Sakuni from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“The Messenger of Allah has said, ‘O people, you live in peacetime during a fast moving journey. You have seen night, day, sun and moon turn every new into old, every far near, and bring the time of every promise near at hand. Prepare the means for a long journey.’ The Imam said, ‘Miqdad ibn Aswad then stood up and asked, “O Messenger of Allah, what is the ‘peace time’?” The Messenger of Allah said, “It is the time to complete (the task) and cut off (from this world). When mischief confuses you like a dark night you must hold to the Holy Quran; it is an intercessor (an associate whose association is beneficial) whose intercession will be accepted and a solicitor whose words are believed. Whoever gives it the lead it will take him to paradise. Whoever leaves it behind (it) will then drive him to the fire. It is a guide that shows the best path. It is the book that contains details and explanations, and accomplishments. It is a criterion and not a useless thing. It has face and hidden meanings. Its face meaning is law and its hidden meaning is knowledge. Its face meaning is unique and its hidden meaning is deep. It has stars and upon its stars there are stars. Its wonders do not end and its rare facts do not become old. In it there is the torch of guidance, and the lighthouses of wisdom. It serves as proof of veracity of knowledge (for one who wants to verfy the truth of his Knowledge) and who has come to know the attribute, permit him brighten his eyes to reach the attribute. It saves from destruction, and protects against danger. Thinking is life for the heart of an intelligent person, just as in darkness one finds the way with help from light. Thus, your freedom (from worldly attractions) must be the best and your delays the shortest.’”

Ali ibn Ibrahim has narrated from his father from ‘Abd Allah ibn al-Mughirah from Sama'a ibn Mehran who has said the following:

“Abu ‘Abd, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, the Majestic, the Almighty, has revealed to you His book. It is truthful and virtuous. In it there is news about you, the news of those before you, the news about those after you, the news about the heaven and earth and if one brings you such news, you are astonished.’”

Honor will come to you from Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, as good news for you. Holy Quran will be his supporter. The Holy Quran will say, 'O Lord, every worker has received the reward for his deeds except my worker. Provide him the most honorable reward.' Allah will then dress him with two dresses of paradise and crown him with the crown of honor and then ask the Holy Quran, 'Did We make you happy?' The Holy Quran will say, 'Lord, I wished for him better than this.' Allah will then give peace in his right hand, eternity in his left hand and will say to him read from the Holy Quran one verse and go one degree higher. Then the Holy Quran is asked again, 'Did we reward him good and make you happy?' The Holy Quran will say, 'Yes, Lord.'

"The Imam said, 'If one reads the Holy Quran very often and faces difficulties to memorize it due to weaker memory, Allah will give him twice as much reward.'"

Abu Ali al-Ash'ari has narrated from al-Hassan ibn Ali ibn Yusuf from ibn Thabit from 'Amr ibn Jami' from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"The Messenger of Allah has said, 'The one expected to be the most humble in private and in public is the carrier of the Holy Quran, the one expected the most to perform prayer and fast in private and in public is the carrier of the Holy Quran. Then he called out loud, "O carrier of the Holy Quran, beautify with the Holy Quran for the sake of Allah, Allah will beautify you with it, do not beautify with it for the sake of people; Allah for this will cause you to be shunned. Whoever completes the Holy Quran, it is as if he has saved prophet-hood between his two sides, only divine revelation does not come to him. Whoever collects the Holy Quran has gained handsomely, thus, he toward one who behaves toward him ignorantly, does behave as such, with one who behaves toward him with anger, he does not do as such, and with one who behaves toward him irritably, he does not do so, however, he pardons, ignores, forgives, bears patiently out of respect for the Holy Quran. If one who has received the Holy Quran thinks that what others have received is better than what he has received, he has given significance to what Allah is has made worthless and has considered as worthless what Allah has given greatness.'"

Abu Ali al-Ash'ari has narrated from al-Hassan ibn Ali ibn 'Abd Allah from 'Ubays ibn Hisham who has said that Salih ibn al-Qammat has narrated from Aban ibn Taghlib has narrated from abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

The Imam said, 'A man who has received belief but not the Holy Quran, a man who has received the Holy Quran but not belief, a man who has received both belief and the Holy Quran and a man who has received none of then.' I (the narrator) then said, 'May Allah keep my soul in service for your cause, explain it to me.' The Imam said, 'The one who has received belief but not the Holy Quran is like a fruit that is sweet but has no aroma, the one who has received the Holy Quran but not belief is like pears that has a sweet fragrance but tastes bitter. The one who has received both the Holy Quran and belief is like citrus that tastes sweet and has a sweet fragrance. The one who has received neither the Holy Quran nor belief is like Hanzal (a bitter tasting fruit of a plant that tastes bitter and smells bitter).'"

It shines to the inhabitants of the heaven just as stars shine to the people of the earth. A house where the Holy Quran is not read, and Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, is not spoken of, its blessings reduce, angels leave it and devils crowd therein.'"

It should be read with proper elocution and distinct pronunciations. My father would read the Holy Quran forty times in the whole month of Ramadan. After my father I would read the Holy Quran sometimes more and sometimes less than he did, as I would get a chance within my work, activities and laziness. On 'id day (after the month of Ramadan) I would assign the reward for reading the Holy Quran once for the Holy prophet, one for Imam Ali, one for Al-Sayyidah Fatimah and one for each Imam until yourself and I assigned the reward for reciting the Holy Quran once for you from the time I am doing this. Will there be anything for me in this? The Imam said, 'On the Day of Judgment, you will be with them.' 'Allah is greater than can be described, this much for me!' I exclaimed. Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from 'Abd Allah ibn Ja'far from al-Sayyari from Muhammad ibn Bakr from abu al-Jarud from al-Asbagh ibn Nubatah from Amir al-Mu'minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"I swear by the One who sent Muhammad, recipient of divine supreme covenant, with the truth and honored his family, all supplications for protection is in the Holy Quran. In the Holy Quran there is protection against fire, theft, straying of animals from the owner, lost items, or runaway persons. Whoever wants to know, ask me. The narrator has said that a man then stood up and said, 'Instruct me in something against fire and drowning' The Imam said, 'Read this verse: "The (true) Guardian is certainly Allah Who has revealed the Book and is the Guardian of the righteous ones." (7:196) and 'They have not paid due respect to Allah. The whole earth will be gripped in His hands on the Day of Judgment and the heavens will be just like a scroll in His right hand. Allah is by far more Glorious and High to be considered equal to their idols.' (39:67) Whoever reads them will be safe from burns and drowning. [The man read them and fire broke out in the homes of his neighbors. His house was in the middle but remained unaffected]. Then another man stood up and said, 'O Amir al-Mu'Minin, recipient of divine supreme covenant, my horse is unyielding and I am afraid of it.' The Imam said, 'Read in his right ear: ". . . all that is in the heavens and the earth have submitted themselves to His will, either by their own free will or by force? To Allah all things do return." (3:83) [He read the above verse and his horse became subservient]. Another man stood up and said, 'O Amir al-Mu'Minin, my land is filled with wild beasts. They overwhelm my house to get their prey.' The Imam said, 'Read: "A Messenger from your own people has come to you. Your destruction and suffering is extremely distressful to him. He really cares about you and is very compassionate and merciful to the believers."' (9:128)

(Muhammad), if they turn away from you, say, 'Allah is sufficient (support) for me. No one deserves to be worshipped except Allah. In Him I trust and He is the Owner of the Great Throne.' (9:129) [This man also was saved from the beasts after reading the Quranic reading].

"Thereafter another man stood up and said, 'O Amir al-Mu'Minin, in my stomach there is yellow water. Is there any cure for it?' The Imam said yes, without dirham and dinar, 'Write verse 255 of Chapter 2 of the Holy Quran on your stomach, then wash and drink it to save it in your stomach, you will be cured by the will of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy.' [This man also followed the instruction and was cured].

Another man stood up and asked about his straying animal. The Imam said, ‘Read Chapter 36 in two Rak’at (a prayer consisting of two times bowing down on one’s knees) prayer and say, “O guide of the straying, return my straying animal to me.’ [This man also followed the instruction and his animal was returned]. Another man stood up and said, ‘O Amir al-Mu’minin, tell me about a runaway.’ The Imam said, ‘Read: “Or they (the deeds of the unbelievers) are like the darkness of a deep, stormy sea with layers of giant waves, covered by dark clouds. It is darkness upon darkness whereby even if one stretches out his hands, he cannot see them. One can have no light unless Allah gives him light.”’ (24:40) [He followed the instruction and his runaway person was found]. Thereafter another man stood up and said, ‘O Amir al-Mu’minin, tell me about theft. Every night they steal my things.’ The Imam said, ‘When going to bed read, “(Muhammad), tell them, ‘It is all the same whether you call Him Allah or the Beneficent. All the good names belong to Him. (Muhammad), do not be very loud or slow in your prayer. Choose a moderate way of praying.’ (17:110) Say, ‘It is only Allah who deserves all praise. . . .’ (17:111) Amir al-Mu’minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, ‘If one is in an uninhabited land at night the angels will guard him and devils move away from him upon his reading this: ‘Your Lord is Allah Who established His dominion over the Throne (of the realm) after having created the heavens and the earth in six days. He made the night darken the day, which it pursues at a (considerable) speed and He made the sun and the moon submissive to His command. Is it not He who creates and governs all things? Blessed is Allah, the Cherisher of the Universe.’ (7:54) The narrator has said that a man traveled and stayed at a ruined town without reading the above verse of the Holy Quran, Satan overwhelmed him and was holding his face. His (Satan’s) friend told him to wait. It made the man wake up and read the above verse of the Holy Quran. Satan then said to his friend, ‘May Allah humiliate you, now stay here to guard him till morning.’ In the morning he came to Amir al-Mu’minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, and informed him of the incident saying, ‘In your words I found cure and truth.’ After sunrise he went to the place and he found a bunch of the hairs of the devil on the ground.’”

“Do not be dismayed in reading Chapter 99 of the Holy Quran. If one reads it in the optional prayers, Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, protects him, all the time, against earthquakes and will not die thereby or by lightening and of worldly calamities until the time of his death. When he dies a noble angel comes to him from his Lord, sits near his head and says to the angel of death, 'Be kind to the friend of Allah. It is he who very often spoke of me and read this Chapter.' The Chapter will also say similar words. The angel of death will then say, 'My Lord has commanded me to listen to Him, obey Him and will not take his spirit out without His commanding me to do so. When He commands me, then I take his spirit out.' The angel of death remains with him until he commands to take his spirit out. When the curtains are moved aside and he sees his places in paradise, his spirit comes out very gently as the gentlest treatment. Thereafter his spirit is escorted to paradise by seventy thousand angels rushing him to paradise."

A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Khalid from Isma'il ibn Mehran from 'Ubays ibn Hisham from those whom he has mentioned (in his book) from abu Ja'far, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

"The readers of the Holy Quran are of three kinds: There is a man who has learned the Holy Quran and has taken it as a piece of merchandise to attract the rulers thereby and dominate the people. There is a man who has learned the Holy Quran, preserved its letters, but has lost its laws. He has kept its letters without change. (I wish) Allah would not increase the number of people like him as the carrier of the Holy Quran.

"There is a man who has applied the medicine of the Holy Quran to the wounds of his heart, it keeps him vigilant during the night, he endures thirst during the day, stands up in mosques and leaves his bed for its (the Holy Quran) sake. Through such people Allah, the Most Majestic, the Almighty, defends the land against the enemies, and through them he sends down rain from the sky. By Allah, such ones among the readers of the Holy Quran are like alchemy in rarity and value."

The Book of Social Manners

Chapter One

The Necessary Part of Social Manners

H 3579, CH 1, h 1

A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from Ali ibn Hadid from Murazim who has said the following:

"Abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has said, 'You must pray in the Mosques, maintain good neighborly relations with people, present your testimony, and attend funeral processions. You need people. There is no one who does not need people in his life. People need each other.'"

H 3580, CH 1, h 2

Muhammad ibn Isma'il has narrated from al-Fadl ibn Shadhan and Abu Ali al-Ash'ari from Muhammad ibn 'Abd al-Jabbar from Safwan ibn Yahya from Mu'awiyah ibn Wahab who has said the following:

"Once I asked abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, 'What is the proper way to deal with ourselves, our people, our associates and the people in general?' The Imam said, 'You must return their trust, present your testimony for and against them, visit them during their illness and attend their funerals.'"

H 3581, CH 1, h 3

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from al-Husayn ibn Sa'id and Muhammad ibn Khalid all from al-Qasim ibn Muhammad from Habib al-Khath'ami who has said the following:

"I heard abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, saying, 'You must maintain restraint from worldly attractions (sins), maintain persistence in work, attend funerals, and visit people during their illness. You should attend the Mosque with your own people, and love for people what you love for yourselves. Would it not be embarrassing for one of you to see that a neighbor recognizes your rights but you do not recognize the rights of your neighbor?'"

H 3582, CH 1, h 4

Muhammad ibn Yahya has narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from Ali ibn al-Hakam from Mu'awiyah ibn Wahab who has said the following:

"Once I asked the Imam, recipient of divine supreme covenant, 'What is the proper way to deal with ourselves and our people, our associates of the people who do not believe as we do?' The Imam said, 'Look to your 'A'immah (plural of Imam) whom you follow and do what they do. By Allah, they, ('A'immah) visit their sick people, attend their funerals, present their testimony for and against them and return their trust.'"

H 3583, CH 1, h 5

Abu Ali al-Ash'ari has narrated from Muhammad ibn 'Abd al-Jabbar from Safwan ibn Yahya from abu 'Usamah Zayd al-Shahham who has said the following:

"Once abu 'Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said to me, 'Convey greetings of peace from me to all that you will see of those who obey me and uphold my words. Tell them that I enjoin upon you to be pious before Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, to restraint yourselves from the worldly attractions (sins) in the matters of your religion, to work hard, to maintain truthfulness in your words, keep your trust, perform long prostrations, and to maintain good neighborly relations. This is what Muhammad, recipient of divine supreme covenant, has brought (from Allah). Return the trust to those who have entrusted you, whether they are virtuous people or evildoers. The Messenger of Allah would command to return the needle and swing thread. Maintain good relations with the people of your tribe, attend their funerals, visit their sick people, and fulfill your obligations toward them. If one of you maintains restraint in the worldly attractions (sins) in the matters of his religion, is truthful in his words, keeps his trust, has acquired proper moral discipline to behave toward people, it will be said about him, 'This is a Ja'fari (follower of Ja'far ibn Muhammad, recipient of divine supreme covenant)', and this will bring me joy and delight and they will say, 'This is the discipline of Ja'far.' If otherwise, its misfortune and disgrace will trouble me and they will say, 'This is the behavior of Ja'far.

'By Allah my father spoke to me about a man who lived with a Shi'a (followers) of Ali, recipient of divine supreme covenant, tribe whose beauty was in his keeping his trust, fulfilling his obligations, and his being the most truthful in his words. With him they would keep their important documents and valuables. If one were to ask people of the tribe about him, they would ask, "Who is like him? He is the most trusted one in safekeeping of valuables and the most truthful in his words."'"

و الْورع فِي دِينكُم و الِاجتِهادِ لِلهِ و صِدق الْحدِيثِ و أداءِ الْأمانةِ و طُول السجودِ و حسنِ الْجِوارِ فَبِهذَا جاءَ محمدٌ ص أدوا الْأمانةَ إِلَى من ائْتمنكُم علَيها برّاً أو فَاجِراً فَإِن رسولَ اللهِ ص كَانَ يأمر بِأداءِ الْخيطِ و الْمِخيطِ صِلُوا عشائِركُم و اشهدوا جنائِزهم و عودوا مرضاهم و أدوا حقُوقَهم فَإِن الرجلَ مِنكُم إِذَا ورِع فِي دِينِهِ و صدق الْحدِيثَ و أدى الْأمانةَ و حسن خلُقُه مع الناسِ قِيلَ هذَا جعفَرِي فَيسرنِي ذَلِك و يدخلُ علَي مِنه السرور و قِيلَ هذَا أدب جعفَرٍ و إِذَا كَانَ علَى غَيرِ ذَلِك دخلَ علَي بلَاؤه و عاره و قِيلَ هذَا أدب جعفَرٍ فَو اللهِ لَحدثَنِي أَبِي ع أَن الرجلَ كَانَ يكُونُ فِي الْقَبِيلَةِ مِن شِيعةِ عِلِي ع فَيكُونُ زينها آداهم لِلْأمانةِ و أَدْاهم لِلْحقُوقِ و أَصدقَهم لِلْحدِيثِ إِلَيهِ وصاياهم و ودائِعهم تسأَلُ الْعشِيرةُ عنه فَتقُولُ من مِثْلُ فُلَانٍ إِنه لَآدانا لِلْأمانةِ و أَصدقُنا لِلْحدِيثِ

However, you must avoid his immoral manners. At the time of his death everyone observes me in my person.'"

Chapter Four
Those Whose Association and Friendship Is Undesirable

بَابُ مَنْ تُكْرَهُ مُجَالَسَتُهُ وَ مُرَافَقَتُهُ

H 3595, CH 4, h 1
A number of our people have narrated from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Khalid from ‘Amr Aban ibn ‘Uthman ‘Uthman from Muhammad ibn Salim al-Kindy from those whom he has mentioned (in his book) from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, who has said the following:

“When Amir al-Mu’minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, were to take his place on the pulpit he would say, ‘A Muslim, must avoid friendship with three kinds of people: A bold-faced indecent, an idiot and a liar. A bold-faced-indecent person attempts to make his acts seem attractive to you and loves that you behave like he does. He does not assist you in your religious matters and the matters of the hereafter. Closeness to him is injustice, hardheartedness, and his coming and going is disgrace for you.

‘An idiotic person does not indicate anything good for you, nor is there any hope in him to remove any bit of evil from you even if he may try his best. Perhaps he may want to benefit you, instead he only harms you. His death is better than his living, his silence is better than his speaking, and his being at a distance is better than his being nearby.

‘The liar is one with whom you can never have a happy life. He carries your words out and others’ words in to you. Whenever he may run out of words he then mixes them with others so much so that even when speaking the truth is not believed and he causes differences among people with animosity to sow envy in the hearts. You must be pious before Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, and look after your own souls.’”

٢- و فِي رِوايةِ عبدِ الْأعلى عن أَبِي عبدِ اللهِ ع قَالَ قَالَ أَمِير الْمؤمِنِين ع لَا ينبغِي لِلْمرءِ الْمسلِمِ أَنْ يواخِي الْفَاجِر فَإِنه يزين لَه فِعلَه و يحِب أَنْ يكُونَ مِثْلَه و لَا يعِينه علَى أَمرِ دنياه و لَا أَمرِ معادِهِ و مدخلُه إِلَيهِ و مخرجه مِن عِندِهِ شيْنٌ علَيهِ

In the Hadith of ‘Abd al-‘Ala’ from abu ‘Abd Allah, recipient of divine supreme covenant, it is said that Amir al-Mu’minin, Ali ibn abu Talib, recipient of divine supreme covenant, said:

“It is not proper for a Muslim man to become a friend of an indecent person; he tries to make his deeds seem attractive to him and loves that one to behave like him (indecent). He does not assist him in his religious matters or the matters of the hereafter. The coming and going of an indecent person is a disgrace to one.”

٥- محمد بن يحيى عن أَحمد بنِ محمدٍ و محمدِ بنِ الْحسينِ عن محمدِ بنِ سِنانٍ عن عمارِ بنِ موسى قَالَ قَالَ أَبو عبدِ اللهِ ع يا عمار إِنْ كُنت تحِب أَنْ تستتِب لَك النعمةُ و تكْملَ لَك الْمروءَةُ و تصلُح لَك الْمعِيشةُ فَلَا تشارِكِ الْعِبيد و السِفلَةَ فِي أَمرِك فَإِنك إِن ائْتمنتهم خانوك و إِنْ حدثُوك كَذَبوك و إِنْ نكِبت خذَلُوك و إِنْ وعدوك أَخلَفُوك

If you trust them, they betray you, if they speak, they lie to you. If you may suffer a misfortune, they leave you out. If they promise you, they disregard it.’”

“My father, Ali ibn al-Husayn, recipient of divine supreme covenant, once said to me, ‘My son, look for five kinds of people. Do not befriend them, speak to or accompany them on a road.’ I then asked, ‘O father, who are they? Define them for me.’ He said, ‘Never befriend a liar; he is like a mirage. He shows what is far very near and what is near, in fact, very far. Never befriend a sinful person; he may sell you for a meal or even less. Never befriend a stingy person; he betrays you in the matter of his property at a time when you need help urgently. Never befriend an idiotic person; he may intend to benefit you, instead he causes you injuries. Never befriend one who has failed to maintain good relations with relatives; I have found him condemned in the book of Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, in three places. Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said:

"If you ignore the commands of Allah, would you then also spread evil in the land and sever the ties of kinship? (47:22) Allah has condemned these people and made them deaf, dumb, and blind." (47:23)

'Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, "Those who disregard their covenant with Allah after He has taken such a pledge from them, who sever the proper relations that Allah has commanded them to establish, and those who spread evil in the land will have Allah's condemnation instead of reward and will face the most terrible end." (13:25)

'Allah, the Most Majestic, the Most Holy, has said, ". . . who break their established covenant with Him and the relations He has commanded to be kept and who spread evil in the land. These are the ones who lose a great deal."'" (2:27)

Every moving thing loves its kind and the sons of Adam love their kind. Do not spread your goods when there is demand. Just as there is no friendship between the wolf and the sheep so also there is no friendship between a virtuous person and an evildoer. Whoever moves close to asphalt and tar, it will smear him out so also is association with an evildoer whose manners may spread to his associates. Whoever likes to dispute will be abused. Whoever enters places of evil activities will be accused (of evil doing). Whoever associates with an evildoer will not remain safe. Whoever does not control his tongue will regret.'"

Then a third Jewish person came. He also said what the other two had said before and the Messenger of Allah responded just as that to the other two before. ‘A’ishah became angry and said, ‘Alaykum al-Sam (wrath and condemnation) O Jewish group, brethren of monkeys and swine.’ The Messenger of Allah said to her, ‘O ‘A’ishah, if name-calling were to appear with a shape and form it would have a very evil shape. Wherever gentleness is placed it beautifies it and removing it is only to make it despised.’

“‘A’ishah then asked, ‘O the Messenger of Allah, did you not hear their words: ‘al-Sam ‘Alaykum?’ The Messenger of Allah said, ‘I heard them but did you not note what I said? I said, ‘‘Alaykum’. Whenever a Muslim offers you the greeting of peace say, ‘Salamun ‘Alaykum,’ but when a non-Muslim says something in their manners, just say, ‘Álaykum’, meaning the same to you.’”

The Messenger of Allah asked, 'What if I instruct them with a word of goodness that will be better for them than this and with which they can rule the Arabs and subdue their stiff necks?' Allah, the Most High, then sent this: 'Sad. I swear by the Quran, which is full of reminders of Allah (that you are a Messenger) (38:1). 'It seems strange to the pagans that a man from their own people should come to them as a prophet. The unbelievers have said, 'He is only a lying magician' (38:4). They ask, 'Has he condemned all other gods but One? This is certainly strange.' (38:5)

'A group of the pagans walked out of a meeting with the Prophet and told the others, 'Let us walk away. Be steadfast in the worship of your gods. This man wants to dominate you (38:6). We have heard nothing like this in the latest religion. This is only his own false invention.'"" (38:7)
